THURSDAY FIRST DAY TO REGISTER

Registrars Will Enroll Voters At Polls Thursday

Indications Are That First Days Registrations Will Be Heavy

LOCAL CONTESTS SPUR TO VOTERS

Every Man and Woman In New Castle Should Aim To Register.....

Thursday, September 1, which happens to arrive tomorrow, is the first day for registration of voters in the City of New Castle, and unless all signs fail the wise voter will be out early to the registration booths and get his name on the dotted line.

Three days are set aside for registration, September 1, September 6 and September 17. Unless a voter gets registered on one of these three days he cannot vote in the primary election to be held on September 20.

Others Do Not Count

Previous registrations mean nothing at all. To vote on September 20 one must register on either of the three days. The hours of registration are from 8:00 to 10:00 a. m. from 12:00 noon to 3:00 p. m. and from 5:00 p. m. to 11:00 p. m. Daylight Savings Time.

In every polling booth, registrars will sit at the time specified above, tomorrow, and on the following two registration days, and will register all voters who present themselves with a county tax receipt either for 1927 or 1926. No other tax receipt is good. City tax receipts are invalid for voting purposes, only county tax receipts apply.

This election is highly important. Here in New Castle the voters will nominate party candidates for mayor, two for council, a city treasurer, a city controller, four school directors,

Big Marathon Swim Contest Now Under Way

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—Like 2000 arrows released from as many gleaming bows, the contestants in the $50,000 Wrigley swim marathon dove into the water of Lake Ontario at 8:30 a. m. today. It was an ideal day for the great event, with the sun shining and the temperature of the water at 60 degrees.

Nearly 50,000 spectators were on hand to witness the start of the 21-mile race, which was for the long distance swimming championship of the world. It was estimated that the crowd would number 250,000 by noon. A great galaxy of aquatic stars, both men and women, participated, George Young, Catalina winner, was the early favorite.

Two of the starters quit soon after the race got under way. Cramped by the cold waters of the lake, they were pulled to shore.

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The sudden start of Captain Leslie Hamilton and Col. F. F. Minchin on a trans-Atlantic flight has changed the plans of Charles D. Levine to return to America by air.

The New York-to-Germany flyer, who had planned to hop off tomorrow from the Cranwell aerodrome with Capt. R.W. Hinchcliffe, formerly of the Royal Air Force, said this morning that he would not attempt the trans-Atlantic flight if Minchin and Hamilton and their titled passenger, the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, were successful.

"I wanted to be the first to cross from this side," Levine said, "but there's no point in going if Minchin succeeds. Anyhow, I have other flights in mind.

"I wish Minchin and Hamilton the best of luck. They are fine airmen and their machine is all right. But weather reports seem unfavorable, else we would have started this morning.

"If Minchin turns back today or tonight, we'll start tomorrow if the weather is favorable."

McCRAY GETS HIS FREEDOM

Former Governor of Indiana Will Be Released From Atlanta Prison Today

MODEL PRISONER JAILERS DECLARE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Prison doors swing outward today for Warren T. McCray, ex-governor of Indiana, and one of Atlanta's best known federal prisoners.

He has completed three years and four months of a 10-year sentence, imposed for using the mails to defraud. At the time of his conviction, McCray was occupying the gubernatorial mansion in Indiana and was rated at more than a millionaire. He is now said to be unable to pay the $10,000 fine assessed against him, and it will be "forgotten" by the government.

McCray gains liberation at the earliest moment that he became eligible. The parole, however, does not carry with it restoration of his civil rights. Only a presidential pardon can accomplish that before 1931, and thus far President Coolidge has signified no intention of acting in this respect.

Friends of the ex-governor have carried on an unceasing fight for three years to have him paroled or pardoned. Federal authorities, including President Coolidge, declined to act, however, until the famous prisoner should become elegible for parole just as any other prisoner, upon completion of one-third of his sentence.

In Atlanta, McCray, who is 62 years old, has been a model prisoner and this fact helped him gain his freedom. He has taught a Sunday school class, edited the prison paper, and has secured every concession granted because of good behavior.

It is understood he will return to his family in Indiana as soon as Warden Snook at Atlanta opens the gates for him.

LACK OF WIND DELAYS FLIGHT OF OLD GLORY

(International News Service)

ROOSEVELT FIELD, Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Lack of wind was holding up the hop-off of the monoplane Old Glory for Rome this morning. Lloyd Bertaud and J. D. Hill, the co-pilots, were ready to go but a dead calm prevailed. They said they must have a 15-mile west wind to get the heavy plane into the air. Otherwise weather conditions were satisfactory.

TWO PRISONERS BROUGHT HERE

Authorities Believe Source Of Much Booze Has Been Located

Not even Pulaski Township Seems to be exempt from the machinations of the bootlegger. County Detective William G. Fleming and his "Gin Gems" proved this to the ultimate satisfaction of all and sundry Tuesday evening, August 30 when John Span and Nick Gibbs were arrested, and at each of their places large quantities of liquor were found.

Apparently Span was doing things in a "bigger and better" way. Not for him the paltry halfpint business. His was a wholesale trade according to the evidence and information received, and in order to add the necessary touch of mystery to the plot he had

CURB LIGHTS ARE PLANNED

North and South Mercer and Jefferson Streets May Get Lights

Councilman D. O. Davies today stated that council informally is discussing the feasibility of extending the curb light system, not only on North and South Mercer street, but also on North and South Jefferson street.

"The Castleton" will be ready for occupancy soon, and with a bridge proposed across the Neshanock at Lawrence street, councilmen believe Mercer street, between Falls and Lawrence streets, should be illuminated.

It is also pointed out that Jefferson street, between Grant street and Neshannock river bridge, is to be resurfaced and that it is one of the main arteries of New Castle, over which considerable traffic, vehicular and pedestrian, flows, and they are of the opinion the curb lights should be extended to these points.

Councilman Davies is also planning to have four 1,000-candlepower lights installed at different points on the Public Square and when council convenes in formal session Friday morning it is believed the light question will be discussed formally.

Victor Magee and Cortelyou Glass, mail carriers at the local postoffice, started on their vacations this week.

While away they will make a trip to the Toronto state fair which will be attended by the Prince of Wales, where they will compete in a 22-mile swimming contest.

Clifford Roberts and Charles Wood of Mahoningtown also are on their vacations this week.

WAR DEPARTMENT SETS VIADUCT HEARING DATE

Announcement has been received here from the office of the United States Engineer's office in Pittsburgh of a public hearing Tuesday morning September 13 at 11 o'clock Daylight Savings time, to consider the approval of the plans of the Lawrence county commissioners for a viaduct at Wampum.

Oral statements will be heard but for accuracy it is urged that the satements be reduced to writing as the records will be submitted to the war department.

The plans submitted show a bridge with three river spans, the center span with a clear width between piers of 187 feet and a minimum clear above low water of 37.9 feet the clear with between piers of the side spans at the left and right of the center span are 88 feet and 87 feet respectively.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The labor controversy between the Exhibitors' Association and the Motion Picture Operators' Union, which has closed practically every movie theatre in Chicago, will be threshout in federal court, it was announced today.

COMPANY TO PUT LOOP AT SQUARE

P.-O. Company Ready To Put In Loop Which Will Benefit Traffic

C. C. Coulthard, New Castle division superintendent of the P-O railway, today notified members of city council that the company is ready to proceed with the installation of a loop which will result in a new routing of cars around the public square.

As soon as the city is ready the work will start. It is said that the proposed system when installed will benefit traffic at the square.

According to present plans, already given councilmanic approval, cars travelling east to west will loop the far end of the square to resume their journey east. Youngstown to New Castle cars will loop around the west end of the square, using the section where Mahoningtown buses now stop as a terminal. This will enable the cars to make a left turn into the square and obviate the necessity of "backing up" which at the present time is in vogue and hinders traffic.

Rogers Calls on Bobby Jones to Boost Aviation

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. — Bobby Jones, Atlanta, Ga.:

Bobby you can be the means of saving a lot of human lives. The big problem of aviation, is having emergency places to land.

Now you insist on every golf course having one fairway long enough and level enough to land a plane on, all marked with crosses to show it.

If the golf clubs don't do this voluntarily, the government will make 'em do it some day.

Now all you got to do, Bobby, is to say you won't play on a course that won't do that.

If you do this you will do as much for aviation as Lindbergh.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

CANDIDATES STAY IN RACE

Only One Withdrawal of Major City and County Entries

WILL NEED OVER 50,000 BALLOTS

With the closing of the offices of the county commissioners on Tuesday, August 30, came the last opportunity for candidates to withdraw from the various races now going on, and only one withdrawal from a major office was reported.

This one was George E. Rapp of Ellwood City, who has withdrawn from the fight for the Republican nomination for county commissioner. Another withdrawal reported was that of D. G. Gibson, who withdrew from the race for justice of the peace in North Beaver township.

Ballots To Be Ordered.

No more withdrawals are possible now. If any candidate wishes to discontinue the fight he can so notify his opponents, but his name will appear on the ballot. The ballots will be prepared as the lists stand now.

Chief Clerk to the County Commissioners James R. Lamoree is now preparing to ask for bids on the printing of the ballots and will ask for bids on not less than 50,000 ballots to cover all parties.

This number may run to 55,000 as the registration has all the earmarks of being heavy and inasmuch as 50,000 were ordered in 1925, it appears that this will be the minimum for this year.

NEW TYPE PARKING SIGNS INSTALLED

A new type of parking signs is now in use by the city. They are being installed on North Mercer street, between North and Falls streets. They are painted yellow with the parking time limit painted on in black. They are more visible and better than the kind that have been in use. They can also be more easily changed to meet the possible change in parking regulations that might be made from time to time.

Two Aviators And Princess Start Flight

Ocean Hop This Morning Is Surprise—Woman Owns Plane

GOOD PROGRESS IS BEING REPORTED

Princess Lowenstein—Wertheim, 63, Owner Of Plane Is Aboard

(International News Service)

The first trans-Atlantic airplane flight with a woman as a passenger is under way today.

The British Fokker Monoplane St. Raphael, piloted by Capt. Leslie Hamilton and Lieut. Col. Frederick F. Minchin, and carrying the 63 year old Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim as a passenger, hopped off from Upavon airdrome, Wiltshire, England at 7:34 o'clock this morning (British time) for Canada.

It is not certain whether the plane (if it negotiates the trans-ocean leg of the voyage successfully) will land at Ottowa or continue on to London, Ontario, for the $25,000 prize offered for the first nonstop flight from England to London, Ont.

The distance of the flight is roughly 3,200 miles.

This is the third westward trans-Atlantic flight ever attempted. The first by Nungresser and Coli came to grief and the two French airmen were never found. The second, which was attempted by two German Junkers planes, ended in a failure when storms compelled the pilots of both airplanes to turn back.

Advices early this afternoon told of the St. Raphael passing over Ireland, the latest telegrams indicating that the plane was passing out over the Atlantic from county Galway.

Weather conditions were reported favorable for flying over the North Atlantic steamer lane.

GALWAY, Ireland, Aug. 31.—The plane St. Raphael, bound for Ottowa with two pilots and Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, passed over here early this morning. The plane hopped off on the flight early this morning to fly across the Atlantic to Canada.

The St. Raphael was reported over the Village of Inverin, in County Galway, at 12:10 p. m.

It's a wild looking suit, and the salesman says, its a genuine English tweed, the kind of a suit, so the salesman says, that a fellow like I should need. A genuine tweed, from the other side, at least he has made me believe, and to prove it he held up the coat and said, "You can smell the sea on the sleeve." Its a wild looking suit as I've said before, a rough looking piece of goods, the kind one should wear on a hunting trip up to the far north woods. But I'm not going hunting, at least now now, but he sold me the suit just the same, oh why do I fall for these salesmen's wiles, oh why do I fall for their game. Now I've got me a suit that is wild and warm, you can hear it a block ere you see, these clothing salesmen are a pesky lot, the weather sirty-three.

New Shenango School Plans Working Well

Big Consolidated School Now In Session East Of City

BUS ROUTES FOR PUPILS OPERATE

A mad rush out the door, a group of carefree boys and girls hunting their prospective bus, teachers endeavoring to straighten out the different groups and bus drivers good naturedly waiting for the customers to climb on.

This is the first week of the consolidated school sessions and the youngsters are just a bit uncertain as yet as to which is their bus. So are the teachers and principal for the later but everyone is learning more each day and in a week Principal C. B. Book expects to have his force working smoothly.

This week dismissal is at 3 o'clock but next week the time will be set at 3:30. The early dismissal is for the purpose of allowing everybody plenty of time to get their proper bus. Two trips are made by each of the four buses and the itinerary extends to all parts of Shenango township.

Classes are gradually getting down to a working basis, the teachers are getting accustomed to the new building and the boys and girls are rapidly learning to like their new city school in the country.

Inside of a week the Shenango township consolidated school will be working with the precision of a city school and the benefits of such a consolidation will become more and more apparent as the year wears on.

and several aldermen, constables, assessors, and election officers.

In the county at large, there will be nominated, a judge, a prothonotary and clerk of courts, three county commissioners, three county auditors, and a coroner. Certainly an important list calling for the serious attention of every man and woman who has the privilege to vote.

Registration to be Heavy

That the registration will be heavy seems a forgone conclusion. Every day sees the county treasurer's office full of people getting themselves in shape to vote and long lists of names are being presented by various people authorized to pay taxes for others. Some of these lists run as high as 100. The indications are that the registration of 1925 will be surpassed and because of this the voter who registers early will save himself the rush at the last minute.

Only citizens can register and the citizen who does not register is hardly worthy of the honor. Upon the verdict of the citizenry of this county depends the success or failure of the administration of city and county government and only a heavy registration will voice the true demands of the men and women of this county.

"The bulk of the Philippine population does not appreciate the full meaning of independence, nor is there any active popular demand for immediate action to obtain it."—Prof. Ralston Hayden.

RAID BIG STILLS NEAR OHIO LINE GET OPERATORS

"His Nose Knows"

Attempting to hide liquor from Fleming is like attempting to hide a gin breath from our wife. His nose knows, and after sniffing around the barn for a few minutes the boys kicked in several partitions and found a man size still, of forty gallons capacity, 5 gallons of corn liquor and 2½ gallons of cherry whiskey.

Nearby were large barrels and containers which had been full but were now empty. Span was brought into the county jail and held by Squire Green this morning for the September term of court.

After leaving their calling cards at Span's place the boys journeyed over to Nick Gibb's and here also found that Gibbs was of the same mysterious turn of mind as Span. Business of kicking in a lot more partitions and 30 gallons of loquor was brought to light. Mr. Gibbs was persuaded to come into New Castle and was also held by Alderman Green.

Youngstown In It

The raid was a sort of joint affair, Youngstown officers entering into the case. For some time they have been mystified with large consignments of liquor coming over the line to East Youngstown, O., and investigation pointed to Pulaski Township, near New Bedford, just a few hundred yards across the state line.

They imparted their information to County Detective Fleming and the Lawrence County party met the Youngstown party early Tuesday evening. In the Youngstown group were W. F. Clarke and C. H. Fickes, of the Youngstown City Vice Squad, and Carl Hoffman and George Baynahan of the Ohio State Prohibition forces.

In the Lawrence County squad were County Detective Fleming, State Officer Muncy, and Constables Leslie and McClenahan. The cleanup Tuesday night was one of the biggest made in many months here and removes, it is thought, a source of supply for Youngstown that has proved most annoying to the authorities.

CHICAGO MOVIES REMAIN CLOSED; STRIKE UNSETTLED

Association. All members theatres closed their doors by agreement Monday evening as a protest to what they termed "unfair demands by the union."

No Films Sent Out.

Then, to make the lockout complete by taking in the few independent theatres scattered over outlying neighborhoods, the film board of trade is said to have sided with the exhibitors and refused films to these non-member houses.

The lockout has thrown more than 25,000 theatre employes out of work, tied up $100,000,000 worth of property and left thousands of movie fans without their daily entertainment. That the theatres may be closed for week was seen today with the entrenchment of both sides to the dispute for a finish fight.

Union officials, in explaining their move to force by federal injunction the service of films to independent theatres, declared the film board of trade had violated a federal law by withholding the films.

Nothing To Arbitrate.

Asked if they would make any effort to arbitrate their differences, Thomas E. Maloy, business manager of the Operators' union said:—

"We have nothing to arbitrate. We have been locked out—that's all."

The exhibitors, however, believe there is much to arbitrate and announced themselves as willing to enter negotiations.

The trouble started when union officials called a strike on the Orpheum circuit after the management of the Belmont theatre refused to reinstate two motion picture operators they had discharged because of a substitution of vaudeville for part of the picture program.

Believing the strike would eventually spread to other circuits and tired of the unfair demands of union leaders," the Exhibitors' Association stole a march on the labor officials by declaring the lockout.

A FLIMSY EXCUSE

"Whenever a man paragrapher runs out of anything funny to say," say the Monett Times Rambler, "he takes a rap at women's clothes, which is rather a flimsy excuse for a paragraph."

"It certainly is a flimsy excuse," replies the Aurora Advertiser.

TWO AVIATORS AND PRINCESS START FLIGHT

THURLES, Ireland, Aug. 31.—The trans-Atlantic plane St. Raphael passed over Thurles at noon today, headed toward Galway. Thurles is about half way across Ireland.

Over Ireland.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Fokker monoplane carrying Captain Leslie Hamilton, Col. F. Minchin and the Princess Lowenstein on a trans-Atlantic flight from England to Ottawa, Can., passed over New Ross, County Wexford, Ireland, at 10:50 o'clock this morning, officials here have been notified.

New Ross is at the southeastern tip of Ireland. The plane was reported heading due west which would take the fliers straight out to sea.

Leave England.

UPAVON, Wiltshirz, Eng., Aug. 31.—With the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim as a passenger, Captain Leslie Hamilton and Col. F. F. Minchin of the royal air force took off from here at 7:35 this morning in a new attempt to span the Atlantic ocean by air.

Using the Fokker monoplane St. Raphael, owned by the princess, the fliers headed for Ottawa, Canada.

The Princess Lowenstein, an Englishwoman, is 61 years old. She was born Lady Anne Saville. In 1897 she was married to H. S. H. Prince Ludwig Karl Zu Lowenstein-Wertheim-Frendenberg, a member of the German nobility. She has been a widow since 1899.

Prominent in Society.

A member of a British family that dates back to the time of Richard II, the princess has long been prominent in society of England and the continent. Of late years she became intensely interested in aviation, and only recently it was reported she was planning a trans-Atlantic flight with two other English aviators.

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 31.—Generally favorable weather faces the St. Raphael on its projected flight across the Atlantic ocean, according to air ministry reports.

Moderate easterly winds prevail between Upavon and the Irish coast, the ministry stated. The sky is cloudy and there is a little drizzle over the Irish coast.

For the first 800 miles across the Atlantic the winds are light and variable. From this point to Newfoundland the weather is fair, with the wind mostly northwest, changing to southwest in the neighborhood of St. John's, N. F., where some fog also prevails.

Hamilton and Minchin were "dark horses" in the trans-Atlantic derby. Until late last night it was not known that they intended to leave this morning, and their announcement that they would brave the dangers of a trans-ocean hop today came as a complete surprise.

Near Tragedy.

The aviators and their female companion almost met with tragedy at the very outset. The heavy plane sped across the field for almost three-quarters of a mile before it rose into the air, and then narrowly missed a clump of trees as it cleared the field.

A tremendous cheer went up from the large crowd which had assembled. The spectators gasped as the plane wobbled uncertainly over the turf, ever gaining momentum but its wheels still hugging the ground. For a moment it was feared that the plane would not rise. Then, when it had taxied more than three-quarters of a mile, the nose of the plane tilted upward, the wheels went free from the ground and a moment later the plane had disappeared into the clouds.

Dramatic Scene.

A dramatic scene took place at the airdrome before the start was made. The Roman Catholic archbishop of Cardiff held services beneath the yellow wings of the plane, while scores of officers of the royal air forces, comrades of Hamilton and Minchin, stood about with heads bowed.

The fliers were in confident spirits before the start. The princess, her eyes sparkling in anticipation of the venture, discussed her daring plans with International News Service.

"I am looking forward to this trip," she said. "I am confident of my pilot and my machine. I am proud to be the first woman passenger to attempt crossing the Atlantic ocean. I am excited, of course, but I am not nervous. Could I be anything else? It is a great adventure."

Churchill Inspects Plane.

Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer and a friend of Princess Lowenstein, flew from London to the Upavon aerodrome last night and inspected the plane.

"I think she's a fine machine," he said after the examination. "I hope they succeed."

The princess' stylish outfit was in sharp contrast to the rugged flying clothes of her companions. She wore a black toque hat and a loosely-fitting bright blue suede jacket, and her legs were encased in a pair of riding breeches with yellow boots topped with brown fur. The boots just failed to reach the bottom of her breeches and two inches of sheer silk stockings were left exposed.

Minchin was self-possessed but Hamilton was the most nervous of the three. While the ground staff was starting the engine he murmured:

"This is the part I don't like. This is the grim part of the ordeal." He evidently referred to the dangerous moments on the ground when the plane had to gain momentum to take the air.

Minchin said that weather reports were favorable, although a heavy ground mist hung over the field.

Weather Favorable.

"All weather reports are in our favor," he said. "The wind will be behind us for at least half the way across. I know we'll pull through, else we wouldn't have started. We have more than 750 gallons of petrol which should last up to 40 hours. We have sandwiches and coffee aboard and other emergency rations."

As the engine started to roar, the archbishop, accompanied by two Catholic priests, sprinkled holy water over the machine.

"God bless you," the prelate said. "May you have a safe journey. We shall not forget to pray for you."

"Good-bye," Minchin cried as the plane got under way, 'we'll send a wire from Canada."

It was understood the princess carried a complete outfit of clothing to wear upon her arrival in Canada.

Before entering the machine, the princess fell on her knees before the archbishop and received a final benediction.

Minchin is piloting the plane. Hamilton holds the post of navigator.

Plans Made.

Captain Hamilton and Colonel Minchin first planned to leave between 5:30 and 6:30 this morning. Accordingly, the monoplane was trundled from its hangar at 5 o'clock and wheeled onto the runway for the take-off.

The gasoline tanks had been filled last night and all preparations made for the flight. After looking over their plane, the fliers retired, with instructions to be called shortly after 3 o'clock this morning.

The weather was cloudy, and a heavy mist overhung the field as last-minute preparations for the start were made. The visibility was poor, but the fliers were not be to deterred, and the engine of the plane was tuned up for the start.

A few moments before 7:30 o'clock, the three figures stepped over the side of the plane's fuselage, into the cockpit, Hamilton and Minchin helping their titled passenger into her seat. The engine was started with a roar, and the heavily-laden plane sped across the field.

With his parents he had entered a taxi at the Stevens hotel, and noticed on the floor a purse. He picked it up and opening it found $198 in cash and some valuable papers. The find was reported to the taxicab company and the same night, Joseph Glasser of Boston, Mass., registered at the Drake hotel called Mr. Rentz on the telephone.

The gentleman from Boston was most appreciative of the return of his purse and wanted to give Richard Rentz a substantial reward. This was refused, and Mr. Glasser sent a five pound box of candy to his room in the hotel.

FOR BETTER SCHOOLS

MORE than 300,000 public school teachers attended summer schools this year or matriculated in colleges and universities for special work. Other thousands broadened their minds during the vacation recess by touring America or in foreign countries.

All will be the better for it, the schools will be better for it and millions of children will come out of the schools better educated as a result of it.

This effort on the part of the teachers themselves is stimulated by the prospects of higher salaries and new teachers' requirements. The nation is determined to have better trained teachers and those who fail to meet the new standards must step aside.

It took the American people a long time to discover that a poor teacher is a poor investment for the same reason that a scrub cow is a bad buy. A poorly taught child is untaught. No longer is the raw high school graduate accepted as a finished teacher "good enough" to teach in the public schools. What a vast difference between the old attitude and the new attitude that the best teacher is none too good for the public schools.

School taxes generally are increasing, but there will be little complaint if proof is given the taxpayers that they are getting more for their money. The public is as insistent on producing an army of efficient teachers as it is on providing adequate and suitable school buildings.

The public school of tomorrow promises to be a better school than even the "little red schoolhouse."

SOME RADIO STATION DELINQUENTS

NEARLY 100 of the 694 broadcasting stations in the United States have not asked for renewal of their licenses, which expired on August 15. As that date was also the official deadline for filing renewal applications, there is nothing to prevent the Federal Radio Commission from closing the door on the delinquents.

It is announced, however, that no such step will be taken immediately. Why this grace should be extended is a mystery, in view of the commission's undisguised hope that these stations will drop out. Most of them are "little" transmitters, authorized to use from 10 to 100 watts power.

They have undoubtedly found it difficult and unprofitable to compete with the more powerful stations. They are not essential to the radio public. Their discontinuance would make the air less congested for other broadcasters and might clear the way for more big stations.

AN END TO STUNT FLIGHTS

MORE than a week after the tragic conclusion of the Dole air race, naval officials are saying that "some step must be taken by the federal government to prevent future loss of lives in long distance stunt flights." It is growing more apparent that the thrill of the race took precedence over reasonable caution and thorough preparation.

Of the three flights from New York to Europe, only Lindbergh's was genuinely successful. Byrd's and Chamberlin's met with serious difficulties. The size of the European continent, which was their target, and the very great skill of the aviators enabled them to land without loss of life or limb.

Of the two flights to Hawaii earlier in the summer, one was a perfect success. In the other, the plane was wrecked in a lonely spot on one of the islands of the Hawaiian group, not the island aimed at.

There have been plenty of noteworthy successes to stimulate confidence in and enthusiasm for flying. There have also been plenty of failures to emphasize the fact that neither planes nor man's mastery of the air and knowledge of the art of flying are yet perfect.

It is all right to encourage flights, to offer prizes for special achievement. But in every such case there should be the fullest study of conditions, the most rigid requirements for safety and thorough inspection of planes. Needless loss of life will do the cause of aviation great harm.

A BIRD AND A BAD DAY

Nothing to write about; nothing to say,
And a syndicate shouting for copy today.
"Get busy," they wire. "You are overdue now.
We must have your verses tomorrow somehow."
So I sit at my desk and I twiddle my thumbs,
But the morning departs and a thought never comes.

Just out of my window a bird on a tree
Is singing a glorious lyric for me.
It may be an old tune, it may be a new,
But I wonder the while I am hearing him through
Is that brave little fellow full pleased with his lot?
Does he, too, have to sing when he'd much rather not?
So sweet is his music, so liquid each note,
Which comes with delight from his marvelous throat.

I wonder at times if he'd rather keep still
Than capture my ear with a rapturous trill?
Can a bird ever know such a soul-racking thing
As an order for song and have nothing to sing?

Oh! brave little fellow, I'll struggle somehow
To get out that copy for Adams right now.
You were fashioned for singing, and though it may irk,
You sing with a brave heart because it's your work.
My thanks for this lesson your courage has taught,
And also my thanks for suggesting this thought.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight at 6:35. Sun rises tomorrow at 5:27.

The only clue to a cruel murder in New York were the footprints of a dainty lady's high-heeled shoe. The gentleman's head had been clipped off with an axe. A perfect lady must have done the job.

There are men who like men who say the right thing at the right time, especially when they are thirsty.

The most brutal thing about the modern prize-fight is the price of the tickets and the distance the holder of the ticket has to be from the scrappers.

One cop says men are better drivers than women, and another cop says women are better drivers than men. And so the matter stands about where it did before they ventured their opinions.

People who like themselves better than any other person in the world should never get married. They will spoil a home if they do.

It has been a long time since the Hints and Dints man has seen an ouija board. Have you?

Tomorrow, September 1, is the first registration day. Everybody has to register once a year just like a dog. The best thing to do is to register the first day and then it is all over and you are sure of the right to vote at the primaries and the general election. We know there will be some terrible voting at the coming fusses, but even at that we would like to see all the votes cast, no matter what they will be.

It takes a lot of money to make the political pot boil nowadays. Expensive fire.

The great wonder with us is why the people let some birds stay in office during the entire term they are elected for. It's just a case of putting up with a bad job.

Energy wasted in a rocking chair would get a man quite a way if applied to a bicycle.

The present August is the coolest there is any record of. That is something we should forget and begin to think about Santa Claus.

By the way, Santa Claus is the only person we ever heard of who could get away with wearing whiskers. He is the only whiskered man the women like.

Over in London they recently moved a 700-pound clock. In other words, they had a lot of time on their hands.

A few more first-class executions among the anarchists in this country might make some of the loud red bozos crawl into their holes and keep quiet. Cutting the legs off right under the chin is a wonderful thing to create silence and respect for our country—or any country.

Days of doubt: "My wife will never find out what I had to drink last night." "Will you?"

The tax collected on cigarettes last year was $24,000,000 greater than the year before and this increase is attributed to women smoking. Some of the ladies must be smoking on the sly.

We judge that "Jack Spratt" was anxious to take off weight and his wife had her corsets made to order.

A Baltimore man killed his best friend when he caught him sitting on his hat. Sitting on another fellow's hat is a very severe offense with some ginks, especially if the hat happens to be a new one.

When dining in a fashionable restaurant a man generally eats what his wife thinks she'd like—or what he orders.

Some mighty fine attractions are booked for the Scottish Rite Cathedral during the coming fall and winter. You may not realize it, but it is your duty to help support this wonderful institution in other ways than just admiring it from the outside. New Castle is getting on the map and will be a great city if we all do our part.

Many a man in love tips the waiter a dollar or two and then lives on egg sandwiches the rest of the week.

A sociologist, whatever that is, says much that passes for modesty is really vanity. We believe all of that.

When a man drives up to the curb in front of a dry goods store and his wife alights, saying: "I'll be back in just a second, dearie", he knows she means all right, but he never leaves his motor running.

Parents think daughter is cultivating her voice, but to the neighbors it seems harrowing.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

Little Tommy had a sore toe so his mother thought this a good opportunity to make him eat his cereal.

"Tommy", she said, "if you eat your oatmeal, it will cure your toe." Shortly afterward Tommy came to his mother with a very disgusted air.

"I ate my cereal,' he said, "but my toe isn't any better. I guess the darn stuff went down the wrong leg."

A negro minister discovered two of his parishioners playing cards on a Sunday—and for money.

"Rastus", said the minister, "don't you know it's wrong to play cards on de Sabbath?"

"Yeh, parson," answered Rastus, ruefully, "but, believe me, ah's payin' foh mah sins."

Tomorrow is the first of the registration days provided for voters in New Castle. The voters are required to register personally and they should not overlook this important matter. Not only is there a large number of local offices to be filled, but there is a great number of men and a few women running for them. There might be among the list of candidates some people you don't like, so you had better register in order to vote against them.

No matter what Mr. Coolidge says, there are some people who claim that he does not say enough.

Poise is the quality that enables you not to care a darn who catches you eating a hot dog.

A solution of iodine is now said to be a rum possibility, and just think how that will affect everything. There is iodized salt, iodized water and all the other iodized products that are supposed to be a preventive of goiter. One thing sure, if the iodine is made strong enough it will prevent many things and cause lots of funerals.

No doubt the bimbos who steal airplanes take them for a flier.

Schools in the rural districts are open now and one week from today the city will open the school doors for another year of work. It has been a fast summer and very few of the scholars are sorry the vacation time is over. Most of the parents are glad, for it throws the responsibility of raising the children on the schools. And for a large number it means the opening of the football season and dances and parties. The stores look upon it as the opening of good business times. Everyone gets some comfort out of the school opening except those smaller students who have to go back, and go unwillingly.

The Treasury Department reports that more than two billion dollars was collected last year. Is it any wonder that France can say that we don't need the money and work all the harder for a cancellation of debts.

The sneezers' party is already beginning, for this is hay fever season. We feel sorry for the sneezers, but our sympathy won't stop the flow of sap.

Business may be bad as any business man will guardedly attest to, but if you go along the street and take a good look you will see that garters are holding up all right.

Just get a big, husky boy on the football squad or boxing squad or crew at a college and he will come home and glory in the work of hauling ice or pitching hay.

People who live in glass houses should not do Salomes.

A man doesn't always come out right with what he says when he comes right out with what he thinks.

While speaking of vacation, we can't help but think of how many friends we have in Canada who are all tired out up there taking the rest cure.

Someone rises to remark that there "orta be a law against fat men in knickers," but we would like to add: "How about fat women?" The crime itself is its own punishment.

"Oh, my dear, please don't try that any!"

"Oh, my dear, please!"
"Oh, my dear!"
"Oh, my!"
"Oh!"

IT NEVER FAILS

Two traveling men conversed as to their homecoming. One, a newly married man, said:

"The evening that I reach home I stop at the corner store, buy a large box of bonbons and a nice bouquet for my wife. Then I knock gently on the front door and she rushes out into my arms. By doing this I find that my wife is so overjoyed that she forgets to ask questions."

The older man replied cynically:

"Ah, yes, well do I remember my actions when I was young like you, but—now I stop at the corner store on my way home and buy the heaviest ball bat that they have. I then knock heavily at the front door and run quickly around to the back. And," he added with pride, "I haven't missed one for the last six years."

Need of Airships.
Fifty-Fifty.
Vaccination Necessary?
Rust Costs Millions.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

The Chinese situation should demonstrate even to the government of the United States the importance of the flying machine in war.

Hand to hand fighting and long distance cannon fighting on the ground would be childishly foolish in China. You might kill one million or five million Chinese; that wouldn't make much difference.

But war from the air would make a difference. And it would make unimportant the great numbers that might be put into a Chinese army. Half a dozen eagles in the air would have nothing to fear from fifty million sheep on the ground. A few hundred flying machies equipped with explosive bombs and poison gas could bring to reason even a country as great in area and population as China.

That's another reason why the United States should keep out of any Chinese war. WE HAVEN'T ANY FLYING MACHINES. And Russia which could quickly fly to China's assistance has plenty of flying machines. Japan has them also, knows how to use them, keeps on building them, hires the best European fliers and buys the finest European machines in addition to building her own. She knows she must rule in the air if she wishes to continue the ruling power of Asia.

We in America don't know much of anything except that we would like to keep prosperity and get a little more money if possible.

One of these days President Coolidge and his magnificent army and navy should make note of it fliers from another country may change our program suddenly.

The head of the last Russian Czar, killed by order of the Bolsheviks is dust. The crown that he wore, worth many millions, decorated with diamonds and pearls of enormous size recently was offered for sale with other of the Romanoff jewels in the United States.

A few years ago when the Czar was murdered the thought of buying his jewelry would have been called sacrilege, compromising with murder. Several years make a difference.

Fifty years hence no one would object to the sale. The French republic owns magnificent jewels once belonging to Louis Sixteenth, whose head was chopped off by his beloved subjects. No one would question the right of the French to sell those jewels now if they chose. After all the Czar while he had the power to do as he chose with his subjects sent them into Siberia, beating them to death with the knout. When they got the chance they did as they chose with him. "Fifty-fifty" as Mr. Abraham Lincoln Erlanger would say.

When some good ignoramus tells you that it is a shame to vaccinate children, that such action isn't necessary, or effective, you can usually divert his mind by asking whether he would be willing, unvaccinated to spend a week in a smallpox pest house? You will find that he would NOT.

Dr. Egloff says that Corrosion, rusting, eating out, etc., of equipment cost the oil companies $200,000,000 a year. That is only part of the national bill for rust, which amounts to $500,000,000 a year. If that could be saved and wisely used the country could soon get rid of the deserts, swamps and build the canals it needs.

The president of the National Tube company subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation spends a fortune every year fighting, trying to educate the public, studying oil conditions, perfecting steel tubes to resist rust and earth's chemicals. The new process of manufacturing steel direct from the ore by electricity may help solve the problem.

Beware of the tables of "normal weight," tells Dr. Leonard Williams of New York. Those tables tell you that a man of a certain height weighs normally 147 pounds at 25, and at 50, 162 pounds. It is a dangerous falsehood. A man should always weigh less at 50 than at 25. If he does not he will die sooner than he might die.

One pound or two pounds added to the weight on a horse's back will make him lose a race. Imagine the handicap put on an old heart, old lungs and old kidneys by adding 20 or 25 pounds of fat at 50.

Dr. Williams says find out what your so-called "normal weight" is, then reduce 20 pounds below it. Weight is fat, displacing muscle which connects on the heart as well as the abdomen.

Men old in years and of great intellectual power, Voltaire, Pope, Leo Von Moltke were almost skeletons all at least 20 to 30 per cent below what would be called "normal weight." Every one of us could live well and longer on half of what he eats now.

Horace G. Knowles, whose strong denunciation of the United States policy with regard to Nicaragua, Hayti and San Domingo has aroused a lively public discussion, is a former American diplomat whose experience in the service was largely confined to the Latin-American countries. Mr. Knowles was born in Delaware and received his education at Delaware college. Before his 30th year he entered the American consular service as consul at Bordeaux, France. After several years in the consular service he was appointed minister to Roumania and Bulgaria. In 1909 he served for a year as minister to Nicaragua. This was followed by a similar period of service in the Dominican republic and three years as United States minister to Bolivia.

THE HOLLYWOOD BOWL

They advertise their performances as "Symphonies Under the Stars."

It is a well-sounding slogan and appeals to not only music lovers but lovers of outdoors. To sit and hear the highest type of music in the most comfortable and attractive of surroundings is indeed a privilege.

The Hollywood Bowl is perhaps one of the unique institutions of the world. It is situated in a natural amphitheatre, the huge bowl surrounded on all sides by hills, making a natural slope for the seating of the audience.

When I attended there the other night I was one of thirty thousand people, and we were not listening to anything funny or diverting, only listening to the highest type of classical music admirably performed and conducted by the famous Wagnerian conductor, Hertz.

Hertz is a peculiar-looking man with wobbly legs over which he has insufficient control, a huge torso and he is whiskered and bald-headed. But he knows how to wield the baton and extract marvelous harmonies from his orchestra.

An orchestra is probably the greatest symbol of co-operation and coordination known. If people could only get together in politics and in business and move as concertedly and as considerately as they do in an orchestra, what a world of peace and good-will as well as of accomplishment this would be!

When Wagner was asked what he liked best about the violin he replied, "Forty of them."

To watch forty violinists playing in concert is almost as interesting as to hear them, their movements are so rhythmic and harmonious.

The lover of classical music depends upon hearing it often and creating a taste for it. To produce this music, therefore, under alluring and favorable surroundings is a most useful gesture of art lovers, and few sights more inspiring or attractive could be imagined than to listen to classical music in the marvelous surroundings of the Hollywood Bowl, with the crescent moon up over the hill tops and a salubrious breeze wafting away the stuffy breaths of the multitude.

Most musical entertainments suffer from close rooms, but the exercises in the Hollywood Bowl offer the surroundings of outdoors and a spectacle of unrivaled beauty along with the music.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MORE AND DIFFERENT

Less than twenty miles from New Castle lies the city of Youngstown. It has been called a "typical steel town"—so has New Castle. When the plants of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company, the Carnegie Steel Company, the Republic Iron and Steel Company, and all the smaller steel and iron companies, are running full, Youngstown's payroll runs high. There has been a great shrinkage in steel output during the last few months. It would be expected that Youngstown's payroll would shrink accordingly, but it is announced that the Industrial Pay Roll of that city in June, 1927, was $7,561,610, a gain of $559,131 over the corresponding month of 1926.

Youngstown and New Castle used to depend entirely on the Steel and Iron industry. This wage showing indicates that the Nation is becoming bigger and bigger each year. Production is becoming more and more diversified and this means longer periods of normal business. Years ago depression in one big industry like steel would upset the entire industrial structure of the country. Resting on its present strong foundation it requires depression in more than one line of business to curb prosperity. Good times have continued in the face of a sharp falling off in the steel production, textile depression, and coal depression. Business has gone right on undisturbed by disastrous floods, high money rates, adverse railroad decisions and all that sort of thing.

New conditions have been brought about largely by new industries that did not exist a quarter of a century ago and the growth of other lines that were infants at that time. This refers to the development of the automobile industry, electrical industry, chain store and mail order house industry, can manufacturing industry, refrigeration industry, oil industry, canning and other food producing companies, radio, rubber tire, talking machine and scores of other manufacturing establishmnts that now employ millions of people, compared with thousands a quarter of a century or so ago.

Twenty-five years hence there will be other industries like the airplane industry, now in the infant class, that will be industrial giants employing millions of men, just as the automobile, electric, steel, copper and other big industries of today are doing.

C. B. D. CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

GOOD TEETH

Only twenty persons in the United States have perfect sets of teeth, says E. E. Dalton, of Chicago, in a speech to dentists.

Now, it is quite obvious that Mr. Dalton is speaking without full knowledge. One could not make an intelligent estimate as to the number of perfect sets of teeth without oceans of data, and the oceans are not available. The speaker has some experience, and he says he has seen only one perfect set of teeth, and that set was the proud possession of a young girl.

One would need to examine at least one million mouths, making notes on each case, before offering any intelligent estimate as to the number of perfect sets of teeth there are in a country of a hundred and ten million inhabitants. Needless to say, no one has examined that many mouths, and no organization has examined that many mouths, and no organization has records of that many mouths picked at random from among the people. The only records are on defective teeth that have sent their owners to the dentist.

So we can dismiss Mr. Dalton's estimate of twenty sets of perfect teeth as at best an intelligent and highly unscientific guess.

* * *

But it is remarkable that well-informed dentists are so much impressed by the widespread prevalence of defective teeth.

There may be more than twenty sets of perfect teeth in the United States. They may be twenty thousand. Probably that figure is as good a guess as the other. But the fact remains that there are very few perfect sets of natural teeth. Americans do not have good teeth any more.

It is also true that our fathers and grandfathers had better teeth than we have. Discount how you will the stories of strong and healthy dentition among the elders, you can't get away from the fact that teeth are not as good today as they were a century ago.

Every one of us remembers some old person whom we knew in our youth, who had perfect or seemingly perfect teeth.

* * *

Dentists are learning. The old-fashioned gold crown and bridges that irritated the gums and caused infections are being discarded for more modern and less damaging constructions. The rage for extracting every defective tooth has passed. Scientific dentists are doing excellent work in preserving and restoring teeth.

Two lines of study and action still require much attention.

We need to know much more exactly than we now know just what kind of diet is best for the teeth, and in what manner we may preserve the children's teeth by proper food.

We need some solution of the problem of cost of scientific dental work for persons of moderate income.

Along these two lines the students now in dental colleges might with great profit do a good deal of thinking

Japanese Bank Failures Bring Poverty To Rich

(International News Service)

TOKIO, Aug. 31.—Scores of the nobility in Japan have been reduced to poverty by the recent series of bank failures and are living a hand-to-mouth existence by pawning their family treasures. Those affected include some Princes of the Blood and a few of the court ladies attending the Empress. Some of the finest mansions in Tokio formerly manned by a hundred servants are now conducted by two or three faithful retainers.

Suspend Action On Sewer Project

Negotiations for the Shenango township sewer, which will take care of their east side and also the new community school building have been temporarily suspended, according to County Engineer C. H. Milholland.

The suspension is caused by no definite agreement being reached between the school board and the township. As the township is sparsely settled, the school board would have to pay most of the costs, authorities declare.

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for kindness and sympathy shown during the illness and death of our wife and mother also wish to thank the Steel Mill, Tin Mill, Shenango Pottery and Vitale Fire Works for floral tributes and cars donated.

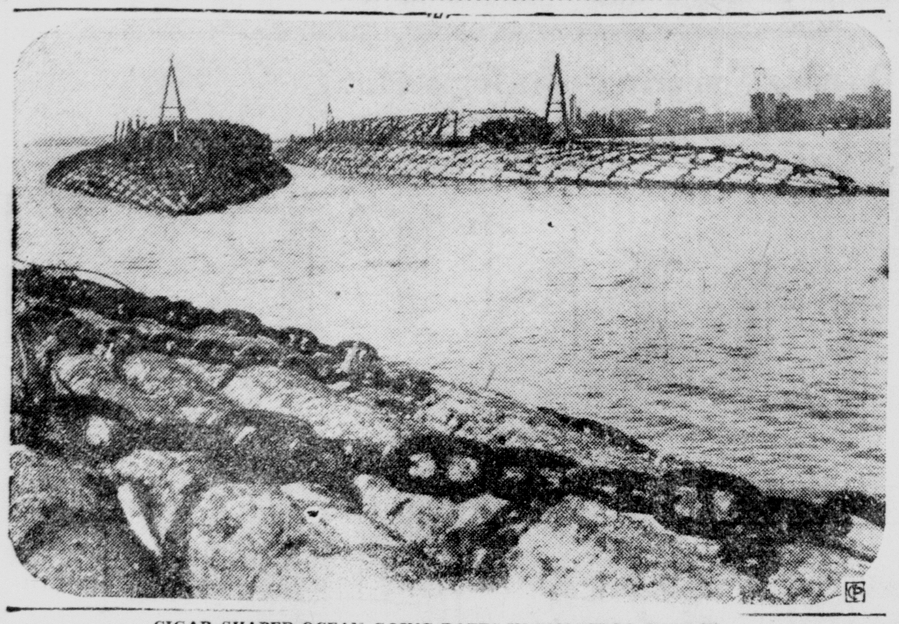
WHOLE FORESTS ARE MOVED IN OCEAN-GOING "CIGARS"



CIGAR SHAPED OCEAN-GOING RAFTS IN SAN DIEGO HARBOR

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 31.—Have you ever sailed the ocean on a cigar? Probably not, but ocean-going cigars travel the length of the Pacific coast several times a year and arrive at southern California ports safe and sound.

Cigars made of logs—short logs, long logs, thick logs, thin logs—buffet heavy gales and travel distances up to 1,100 miles, with seldom a loss which can be measured. Long timbers form the backbone of these rafts, which are approximately 835 feet long and contain 5,000,000 feet of timber and cut lumber.

Sea-going rafts have proved that not all goods need be cargoed within the walls of ships. Lumbermen learned years ago that they could transport considerable quantities of timber by tying it together and floating it. Now they tow whole forests to the mill!

Slow, Slow Traveling.

Behind absurdly small tugs the rafts travel, at snail's pace, through the heavy waves. Four miles an hour is their maximum speed. Expert workmen make them up at timber sources in timber-producing states. Two methods are employed.

Rafts containing less than 1,000,000 feet of timber are constructed on "floors" made by laying logs on the surface of the water and tying them together by interlaced steel wires, and constructing on the floors the superstructures of logs.

As the pile grows larger, the floor sinks into the water. Once the full load has been brought together, wires are tied across the top and the raft floats ready for the roughest journey.

Huge Weight on Chains.

Larger rafts, those containing up to 5,000,000 feet of timber, are built in floating cradles or forms. These are made in two sections so they may be pulled apart and the raft allowed to float alone. One hundred and seventy-five tons of chains hold these immense rafts together.

Through the length of a raft every 12 feet heavy chains girdle it. When the structure is half-complete a two and one-half inch stud link anchor chain is laid from end to end, and to this the laterals are made fast.

As a raft pokes its nose through the waves, the leading tug stands off slightly to one side. It never exerts a direct pull from the front. And to help offset the jerks, a chain 185 feet long acts as an equalizer. The tug never stops nor slows, and the pull remains steady, else the raft becomes uncontrollable.

Unfastening Them.

Once a raft arrives at its destination, workmen tear it down. This is accomplished as easily as the building. An engineer aboard a barge swings his "donkey" into action: the chains on the raft loosened, a workman rolls them to the water's edge, fastens a pair of steel tongs to them and the powerful engine drops them, splashing, into the water.

From this point on to the finished product, the logs move swiftly. Seldom do human hands touch them. A small boat crowds them against a barge, a section of steel rail clamps them against the side, and soon an under-water saw shortens them.

While the rafts weigh so much and are so large that no mariner would willingly ram one, lights burn thruout the two-week voyage, warning that he who molests will run afoul unneeded trouble.

DR. APPEL WILL MAKE VISIT TO MERCER COUNTY

State Health Commission Will Visit County In September, Other News

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 31.—Dr. Theodore Appel, head of the Department of Health of Pennsylvania, has signified his willingness to attend a meeting of the Mercer County Health Association and has forwarded a list of dates on which he has no engagements from which the county officials will make selection of one most suitable for county folk.

A date the last of September will be most likely selected says Dr. S. J. Dickey, county medical director today who will have charge as secretary of the county association in making the arrangements for securing Dr. Appel.

The meeting will be held at Greenville at the Country Club says Dr. Dickey. The visit of Dr. Appel will be the first of a state chief in this department for many years to Mercer county.

Floyd L. Hoon who recently sold his market here has engaged in the sale of frigid air machines and has leased as his display room the old Farmers and Mechanics Bank building.

Returning home today from vacation periods are the families of Judge J. A. McLaughry, who have been at Chautauqua and J. A. Stranahan, Jr., who have been at Conneaut Lake.

The McLaughry family spent the months of July and August at this well known educational center. A cottage was leased for the two months. The jurist divided his time between his office work here and the summer home. The family of Mr. Stranahan spent the month of August at this Crawford county resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eberly and daughter Cornelia, returned today from a summer spent in California. The trip to the western state was made via auto late in June. The Eberlies are a well known Mercer family.

The members of the Potato Growers Association of Mercer county will hold a meeting in the Farm Bureau office on the date of September 9th. It will be held for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. Whether the members will pool their potato crop of this year for sale to Pittsburgh is not known as yet.

The demand for Mercer county potatoes in the city market is sufficient to warrant the action and bring a good price for the tubers to the grower.

Architect Chas. Owsley of Youngstown, O., made a careful inspection today of the work already done here at the court house by the A. F. Bell Electric company of Youngstown, O., who was awarded a contract in July for the re-fitting of the court house motors for alternating and direct current.

The work as far as completed is said to be satisfactory. Some time will lapse before the work will be completed the commissioners say. The contract price on the job was $5,195.

FIXING THE FARMER.

The country will listen to Dr. Joseph S. Davis director of the food research institute of Stanford university. Dr. Davis a friend and fellow citizen of Herbert Hoover another Californian, proposes a board of agriculture and commerce, the chairman of the federal farm loan board and four appointed members. He would also have an agricultural council consisting of representatives of farm organizations and outstanding farmers.

What Davis is after is permanent betterment of the farmer and not a little temporary relief. The slogan should be not more farms and farmers but better farms and better farmers.. Recurring depressions in which the farmer suffers simply prove we haven't been smart enough in America to find an economic cure.

THE GOOD OF LINDY.

Grown-ups like children, are impressed by the spectacular and the dramatic. That's why the Lindbergh tour of cities has been a good thing for America. Lindbergh is tired to death of being dined and applauded. This writer saw him in a parade and he looked as though confetti were brick-bats. But he has made a contribution to America. He has shown us the importance of airports and the importance of the development of flying.

COMING FAST.

Speaking of flying do you know that every aircraft plant in this country is behind on its orders? Some companies are promising no deliveries before November.

APPLYING BRAINS.

Marshall B. Lloyd died in a Michigan town a few days ago. He was an inventor. The American rights for his last invention a loom sold for $3,000,000. His first invention was a spear with which he caught the fish that he peddled on the streets of his hom town. This man stuck to the line he was interested in—the line of inventing. Some people laugh at inventors. But they move the rest of the mass ahead. They not only have brains but apply them.

BITTER AND SWEET.

A Chicago woman beat her husband and was given six months in jail. Fair enough. If woman is to have all the rights of man she must take the bitter with the sweet. Many women want the rights but don't want to pay the penalties.

Are you fighting against middle-age?

ONE OF the most critical periods of a woman's life comes between 45 and 50. Most women dread the approach of middle-age because they know, only too well, the depressing ailments it brings.

The best preparation for this period a woman can have is a good physical condition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help her to gain strength and energy. It builds up the appetite and induces natural sleep. The following letters were written by women of middle-age.

AFTER LONG SUFFERING

South Omaha, Nebraska:— "After fifteen years of terrible suffering each month with sick headaches I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have felt my health steadily improving. After taking your medicine for almost a year and a half, I believe I can say the headaches have left me. I also was troubled with nervousness. I am feeling fine now and do all my work myself. I am the mother of six, and manage an eight-room house without anybody to help. I feel that I am entirely well. Mrs. Adolph Bratke, 4316 South 13th St., So. Omaha, Nebraska.

Remember this package. None genuine without the signature of Lydia E. Pinkham.

MRS. BOLLERMAN'S CASE

West Hoboken, N. J.:— "I was troubled with headaches, weakness, flushes of heat to the face and head and loss of appetite. I would often get so weak I could hardly stand. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take the medicine. After the first few bottles I began to feel stronger and could eat better and had fewer headaches. I am a well woman today, and feel like a different person. You may use this letter for every word is true. I will answer any letters sent to me." Says France Will Never Forget U. S. Part In Conflict

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—"France can never forget America's part in the world war," M. Bokanowski, French minister of commerce, said today, commenting upon the reception the American Legion will receive when it arrives in France for its convention this year.

"We will be glad to have the opportunity to show our real spirit of appreciation and friendship," he added. "The Sacco-Vanzetti case will not make the slightest difference."

Bokanowski visited several large industrial plants here and today was to fly to Buffalo to address the American Bar Association.

YORK PLANNING HUGE PAGEANT

YORK, Pa., Aug. 31.—More than 4,400 Yorkers have been recruited to take part in a huge pageant which will be part of three-day celebration scheduled for October 12, 13 and 14, when York will cerebrate the 150th anniversary of the meeting here of the first continental congress.

The pageant will be staged upon the fair grounds of York County Agricultural society, and it is expected by committees that that it will be reviewed by more than 100,000 persons from York and neighboring cities.

The pageant manuscript, titled "The White Rose of York" has been prepared by Lillian White Spencer and is being produced by Percy Jewell Burrell and his assistant, Alice Kraft.

The pageant depicts the life in York between the years of 1777 and 1791. The parts of George Washington, Lafayette, John Hancock Adams, Morris and Carroll and Baron Von Steuben appear in the pageant's cast.

The feelings and the emotions of the town during the days when it was the capital of the colonies will be interpreted by a group of 500 dancers. A chorus of 700 voices will have its part in the event being planned.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

New Castle garbage collectors are having their own troubles these days. They declare that the additional garbage found at homes of the city during the roasting ear season is tremendous. And most housewives are well aware of the fact that the garbage collectors are having their own troubles as they know the collectors are several days behind on their schedule.

Work is in progress on the improving of Young street from Park to Moody, for which a contract was recently let. Storm sewers are being laid preparatory to paving.

Tomorrow is the first day to register for the fall primaries and general election. Don't put off this duty. Register Thursday.

Contractors who are doing the work on Edgewood avenue, evidently believe in making use of adjoining streets. Large concrete pipes to be used in the work have been deposited along Highland avenue on some of the nicely kept grass plots, without ceremony.

Crawford Oak Ridge Home, the new institution for girls being established along Atlantic avenue by the Quota Club, appears to be about ready for service, judging from an exterior view. The old Crawford homestead has been well modernized and nicely painted and improved.

Farmers in the southern part of the county are well along on some of their fall work. In the Enon Valley district, much of the plowing is now being done. Tractors are replacing horses to pull the plows on some of the farms.

Barnyard golf enthusiasts near the Gilfillan Lumber company plant on Wilmington avenue, have rigged up electric lights over their horseshoe courts so that the games do not end with the coming of darkness in the evenings. The courts are in use most every evening, after dark, the electric lighting proving sufficient to allow the sport to be enjoyed.

Wonder why they don't build some sidewalks in the Oakland district along the concrete road from the Sixth to the Seventh Wards. Traffic hazards are numerous on this route, because of the fact that this much travelled concrete road is used as a sidewalk for the residents of that vicinity. This is an improvement that is needed.

Excavating at the Jameson Memorial hospital is progressing rapidly. At the present time the excavation is in the form of a letter "L" and it will not be long until concrete is poured into the walls. A big steam shovel is ripping the dirt from the embankment and in other places where rock has been encountered it is being drilled out. Several huts to house equipment have been erected on the site.

Those gentlemen who have been telling the world that the Cleveland-Pittsburgh bus is not making the trip via Washington street, should have been on the street last night. The Pittsburgh-Cleveland bus certainly went straight west on Washington street.

New Castle's main curb light system was working on the stagger plan, last night, here a light burning and here a light not burning. Several were out within the space of a block or two.

Motorists who were out early this morning, reported one of the worst fogs of the season. Drivers of autos were compelled to proceed with headlights on their cars burning, until long after the normal daylight hour.

But those hundreds of employes of the Shenango Pottery will be glad to see the time arrive when daylight time is discarded. It looked almost the middle of the night when the long file was streaming into the plant at starting time this morning, 7 o'clock, or 6 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

Coolidge Will Leave West On September 9

RAPID CITY, S. D., Aug. 31.—President Coolidge will leave The Black Hills for Washington on Sept. 9, it was learned here today. One sctop will be made at Brooking, S D. where the executive will dedicate a library.

On the intinerary tentatively arranged, the presidential party will reach the capital shortly before midnight on Sunday Sept. 11.

CREAMERY HEAD RESIGNS JOB

GROVE CITY, Pa., Aug. 31.—Dr. H. C. Jackson, manager of the Grove City Creamery since September, 1924, and whose resignation was to have taken effect September 1st, will stay over and take care of his duties until September 15th. His successor has not yet been named.

Dr. Jackson has accepted the chairmanship of the dairy department of the College of Agriculture at the University of Wisconsin, and will move his family to Madison, Wis., within a few weeks.

Jackson Center

ZAHNISER CLAN REUNION.

The annual reunion of the Zahniser family was held in Jackson Park on Saturday, the 27th. The usual large attendance was present. With eats of every variety. All the ice cream one could eat. The time was spent in pitching horseshoes, watching the ball game between Jackson Center and New Castle and renewing old acquaintances.

At the business meeting Donald Hamilton of Mercer, was elected president of the clan to succeed Ivan Zahniser of New Castle who had held the presidency for two years. The dinner was served in the basement of the auditorium in the park. The Zahniser family is one of the largest in the state, there being about 1,500 relatives, descendants from three Zahniser brothers who came to this country from Germany.

Those False Teeth Are Not Yet Claimed

All things, from dolls to dollars or from babies to baseball bats, sooner or later find their way to the Lost and Found department of the local street car lines. And even that is not all. Safety pins, candy, fruit, Papa's new suit, watches, diamonds and even wedding rings—in fact, anything and everything under the sun—will turn up eventually.

But perhaps the prize package which is being held on the second floor of the P. and O. building is a pair of false teeth. No one knows from whose jaws they dropped and no one knows just how the accident occurred. Some of the operators think that they may have flew from the owner's jaws at a quick stop, while others think that, well, perhaps they were being carried in the man's pocket. However, perhaps the owner was very much surprised when he sat down to the dinner table, prepared to unholster his false teeth, and then found that he had to "gum it."

Hurrying Mama's sometimes forget to take their children from the cars and then what can the operator do? Obviously, he must take them to the "Lost and Found department, until a reunion can be effected.

And sometimes there are large sums of money turned in by the operators. If it remains unclaimed then the man who turns it in gets it. For 30 days, though it is held in the office. After that it goes back to the operator that found it.

Rural Mail In Mercer County Meet Monthly

MERCER, Aug. 31.—The next monthly gathering of the Rural Mail Carriers Association of Mercer county takes place on September 24th. The place of meeting will be at Sheakleyville on the evening of that date when supper will be served in the United Presbyterian church.

The last meeting was that of Saturday at Jackson Center, reported to have been well attended.

Smith Mayers, Grove City postmaster; Rev. S. C. Elder, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Jackson Center; Rev. Cousins of Stoneboro, all made addresses. Floyd Gilkey of West Middlesex, and Mont Simons of Clarks Mills, with Walter Foust of Hadley, reported on the state convention held at Somerset. Cyrus McMuchael of Conneaut Lake, reported on the national convention held at Oklahoma City, August 15, 16 and 17.

Dorothy Mackaill's Lovely Hair

MOVIE fans everywhere admire Dorothy Mackaill as she appears in the picture "Convoy." And no small part of her attractiveness is due to her lovely hair. Yet the full, potential beauty of this First National Player's hair does not show on the screen. For, in real life, the ultra-smart coiffure now possesses a subtle charm which cannot be photographed.

This charm is a suggestion of attractive, feminine daintiness. It is the light, alluring fragrance imparted to the hair by Cham-Kana Shampoo. Thousands of women in society and in business have discovered that Cham-Kana alone adds this desirable, clinging fragrance to the hair.

Then, Cham-Kana contains Quinine—the scalp tonic par-excellence. It invigorates the scalp, restores dull hair to lustrous beauty and thoroughly cleanses. But, above all, Cham-Kana lends an added charm, this new, alluring fragrance which is found in no other shampoo. Thoughtful, smart women recognize its value.

Free—

Enclosed with each 15c package of Cham-Kana Shampoo is the picture of a famous screen actress. There are 12 pictures in the entire series. Any six of these screen stars' pictures may be redeemed for a regular $1 bottle of Bea-Van's Orange Blossom Perfume. Simply save six different pictures, mail them to us with your name and address and the perfume will be sent to you absolutely free.

Lemon Juice is Best to Whiten Skin

Prepare It Yourself at Home

The juice of two lemons squeezed into a bottle with Orchard White, will soothe sunburn, and clear up freckles, tan, discolored skin quicker than anything you can buy already prepared, and it doesn't cost you near as much.

Any druggist can sell you Orchard White, and it only takes a minute to mix it with the juice of two lemons. Then you have enough to last you all season.

It makes a delightful lotion which you can put on your face, neck, arms or hands at any time, and it will keep them nice and white. Mix a bottle now, so you will have it handy to use should your skin begin to turn dark, or rough.

FARM FACTS

TIMELY REMINDERS From The Pennsylvania State College

Spray for Blight—Continue spraying the potato crop with bordeaux mixture to keep the late blight away. The longer the vines are green the more the tubers can grow and the better the harvest.

Grow Good Flowers—Dahlias are the show flowers for this month. Water the plants freely and fertilize well to produce strong roots and perfect flowers.

Pick Fruit Right—Pick fruit according to the market, not too green, but if the market is distant, not too ripe, say horticulturists of the Pennsylvania State College. Well-matured, firm fruit carries better than green fruit and is infinitely superior to it on reaching the consumer.

Alfalfa Good Hay Pasture—For hogs, alfalfa is the best pasture obtainable, furnishing a maximum supply of ideal forage throughout the season, even in dry weather. As many as 20 shoats per acre can be carried. Better plant some for pasturing next year.

Exhibit at the Fair—Have you picked out those good animals for the fair exhibit this fall? Don't be the fellow who says, "I have better stock than those prize winners at home." A good exhibit will advertise your business.

Seek To Solve Farm Problem With "Revolving Fund" Plan

(Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Inasmuch as Secretary of Agriculture Jardine holds the original copyright on the expression "revolving fund", so frequently used in connection with his farm relief plan, it was for the agriculture department that I headed, to see if I could find out what the mysterious—mysterious to me, until I'd investigated—term means.

I suppose formers all know.

And yet I'm not so sure. Secretary Jardine being away on a corn belt tour, the department was quite a while rustling me up an expert who could get beyond the explanation—the whole outfit were pat enough with that—"Why, a revolving fund's a fund that revolves".

Just so. But why? And who makes it revolve? And how fast? And what for? Moreover, what is a revolving fund, anyway?

* * *

First the expert told me about the Haugen farm relief plan.

Formerly it was the McNary-Haugen plan—called so after Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, and Representative Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa. McNary, however, turned rather sour on it when they began talking about running him for vice president on a ticket which considers it a bad thing, so it's in better taste to speak of it only as the Haugen plan now.

The Haugen plan's purpose is to hike up the prices of farm products to an index level with everything else.

* * *

The idea's this:

When the farmer has an overplus of crops his supply exceeds the demand and he can only get low prices—naturally. Of course he exports all he can, but the foreigners are too poor to pay much, so the export tendency's down hill, not up.

What the farmer needs is to have his surplus taken off his hands, and a trifle more too, to insure him good money here at home. The Haugen scheme provides a corporation to do this. It must sell the surplus abroad for what it can get, but it sees that none of it gets back here. Thus it's as if there never had been anything but a near domestic shortage, and the farmer's home profits offset his foreign losses.

* * *

Critics object, on two principal

1. The American consumer will be the goat.

2. Agriculture will be guaranteed a big rakeoff, whether or no, everybody'll rush into it and there'll be a spell of inflation which can't but end in an explosion, in spite of all that even the federal government can do.

* * *

Jardine puts it like this:

When the farmer has a fat crop year and prices threaten to slump, he ought to be able to hang onto part of his products for the next lean year, thereby jacking prices up right then and leaving him a warehouseful of stuff to sell later on, when maybe they'll be higher still.

But he can't wait. He's too poor.

The farm loan bureau will lend him money up to 65 per cent of his crops, but that isn't enough. He needs more.

All right, let Congress appropriate another $300,000, with a commission in charge of it to make the farmer additional loans—on a kind of second mortgage basis, so to speak.

That's the revolving fund.

* * *

Why revolving?

Why, first the government has the money, then the farmers have it, then the government gets it back again, and so on.

That's revolution, you know.

Some of the boodle may not get clear 'round, as an occasional farmer fails to keep it moving along, but this isn't perpetual motion, and doesn't pretend to be.

HANDICAPPED

It was married men's night at the revival, and the minister had asked that everyone who had domestic worries stand up.

"Ah!" exclaimed the minister peering at the lone man who had remained seated, "you are one in a million."

"It ain't that," piped the voice, as the rest of the congregation gazed at him suspiciously, "I can't get up, I'm paralyzed."

PAINESVILLE, O., Aug. 31.—Two men were killed and a man and two women injured Tuesday when a new combination gas engine-passenger coach operating between Youngstown and Painesville on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was demolished by a Nickle Plate freight train at the cross-over of the two roads. Landladies Prefer Men

"Yes, I would rather rent a room to a man at a lower price than I would to a girl, although she paid me more!

"Why? Oh, men are much nicer to have around the house than girls," is th eexplanation offered by most New Castle landladies, when they are asked why they put a girl through a stiff third degree before renting them a room.

It seems strange that girls with long skirts and flat heels are able to secure a room much quicker than a slim, pretty young thing. But this is the case. Girls that attract men do not usually attract landladies.

On the other hand, landladies are attracted to men who are away from home and need "mothering."

And again, men are less temperamental and more cheerful than girls. They usually earn more, and their social engagements are made outside of the boarding house. And they never want to wash their socks and unmentionables in the wash bowl, nor do they require the use of a curling iron. And if a man has a stubby nose and a few cheery freckles, he can even get away with chewing tobacco, while a girl will irritate a landlady by just looking sourly at the arrangement of the furniture in the room.

Women, they say, are much too fussy and flirtatious to meet with the landlady's settled approval. So all other things being equal let them grant the victory gracefully to the men.

"I like the American boys for their gallantry and chivalrous attitude toward womankind."—Princess Ileana.

Two Pedestrians Reported Struck

Accidents Are Not Serious However — Other Minor Auto Auto Mishaps

Two pedestrians figured in automobile accidents reported to the city police Tuesday. Neither sustained injuries of any consequence.

Sam Blight of 504 Lyndal street, reported that he was driving west on Long avenue, when a boy, Sam Sheriff of Pollock avenue, came out of Pollock avenue and into his machine. Mr. Blight took the boy to a physician, where it was found that he escaped with a few minor bruises.

Mr. Bratschie of Epworth street, reported that he was going east on East street at Washington street, when William Marquis of Neshannock avenue, stepped in front of his machine. The latter was not injured.

Fred Timm of Oakwood avenue, reported that he was waiting for the green light at Mill and Washington street, when a car ran into the rear of his machine, doing some damage.

Electric Street Residents Swarm To Squire's Office

Electric street, or a large part of it, swarmed into Alderman J. Lee Cooper's office Tuesday morning.

For weeks, they say, the residents of Electric street have been bothered by the loud swearing and brawling of Demetro and Zena Zuk, colored. Over thirteen witnesses testified to this.

And, to cap the climax, Saturday the Zuk's threatened the life of Rose Socosky it is charged, of 507 Electric street. This was the last straw. The Zuke's were arrested on the charges of disorderly conduct and surety of the peace.

The trial waxed warm, but finally, on the payment of costs by the Zuk's, the charges were dropped. And the costs were paid Tuesday afternoon.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT.

One way of using up the roast is the meat pie. Sometimes it is best to cook the meat a little more before putting into the pudding pan especially if it is a little tough. Onions, potatoes and other vegetables may be added to the meat pie if desired but should be at least partially cooked before adding the crust.

Meat Pie Baked Potatoes
Hot Biscuit
Tomatoes and Cucumbers Sliced
With French Dressing
Dutch Apple Pudding
Milk or Tea.

Today's Recipes.

Meat Pie—Cut the meat in suitable pieces and arrange in a baking dish in its own gravy. If the amount is not too generous, use plenty of gravy and invert a tea cup in the center to hold the crust.

Make a rich biscuit crust and lay it carefully over the top of the dish or cut into biscuit shape and cover top. Bake in a hot oven until the crust is baked through and nicely browned.

Roll and cut the rest of the biscuit dough and place in baking pan and put into the oven when the meat pie comes out. Then they will be ready to eat when the family is seated at the table.

Dutch Apple Pudding—One pint (two cups) flour, two teaspoons sugar, onefourth cup butter, one egg, one cup milk, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, four sour apples. Mix dry ingredients. Beat the egg, add milk, then stir into dry mixture. Spread one-half inch thick in shallow baking pans. Core, pare and cut apples in eighths and lay them on the dough., sprinkle with a little sugar. Bake in a hot oven 20 or 30 minutes. Serve with lemon sauce.

SUGGESTIONS.

Can Be Used Twice.

If you wish to save crocheted lace for another pillowcase, try this method when making. Sew strong rick-rack braid on the under side of the them, letting the points extend below the hem far enough to catch your hook instead of hooking into the pillowcase. Then when the case wears out, rip off the braid and sew onto the new case. The lace will always outwear two pillowcases.

Broil—To cook by direct heat from the fire. The ideal fire for broiling is over charcoal. Over coals the material is held by the bars of a gridiror or broiler. In broiling by gas flame the material rests on a rack set on a pan that is run under the flame. It is a quick method of cooking.

Easily Eaten.

A nice way to prepare peaches to be taken on picnics is to wash them well leaving the skin on. Then with a knife make a series of cuts lengthwise of the peach through to the pit and about three-fourths inch apart. Leave a small space at each end of the peach uncut so that it will hold together. In other words consider the peach as a globe representing the earth and carve the meridians from one polar circle to the other placing the polar regions intact. Wrap each peach separately in waxed paper and at lunch time it will easily come apart in right size pieces.

If there were any truth in the idea that fools are lucky there wouldn't be half as many traffic accidents as there are.—The Los Angeles Times.

'Haunted' House In Lawrence County Provides Thrills

Haunted houses are always the topic of interesting stories for children, and though the spooks are missing from them today, a visit to some of the weird homes where persons supposedly mysteriously passed away always gives even the bold, brave man a creepy feeling upon such investigation of a hut.

Situated in Lawrence county, about nine miles distant from New Castle, and located between Van Gorder's Mills and Dick Victor's Camp for Boys, is a tumbledown shack that comes just about as close to the stories of haunted houses we used to hear about as one would desire.

The hut is a crude affair—made of the simple logwoods of years ago—but still standing and in fairly good shape, considering the many years of its life. It was erected some 50 feet from the road which passes by, and at present is partly hidden from view by clumps of bushes and vines that have grown during the past several years.

Creepy Feeling

The interior of the building, even in broad daylight, gives one a creepy feeling. The rooms are small, with little openings into each in place of large swinging doors. A small winding stairway leads to the upper floor, and as one makes his way to the upstairs a weird cracking sound is heard. Upstairs two rooms and a small den are found. In the den there still remains an old bed—the bed upon which the woman of the house was supposed to have mysteriously died. As one relates the story of the house, a funny feeling runs all through the body, andif it happens to be broad daylight the listeners are thankful—if it is at night—a cold sweat appears and a hurried exit is generally the result.

Woman Froze There

According to the story told, an aged lady lived in the house for many years by herself. She had no means, but nearby farmers helped her and she survived many seasons. During the winter season the only way in which the people would really know that she was still alive was to peer over the hills, and if smoke was appearing from the chimney of her fireplace—all was well and good. But one morning no smoke was visible from the chimney. An investigation followed and the poor old woman was found frozen to death in her little bed upstairs in the den. Folks claim she was in the eighties.

Inside of the old house many old newspapers, letters, pictures and other articles may be found. Papers and letters dated as far back as 1870 have been found.

Visitors Get Thrill

During the summer months when the camp season at the Dick Victor Camp for Boys is in progress, the old house brings to realization in the eyes of the boys the stories of old haunted houses. Ofttimes groups of campers are taken there just after dusk, and needless to say, many refuse to even enter the door. The clanging of chains and even groans are plainly audible when the campers visit the house—making the place all the more mysterious for the boys.

An additional thrill can be afforded one as he makes his way upstairs, as at the top of the stairway there is a small pigeon-hole in the wall, and if one is on the opposite side and thrusts his big hand through the hole it generally gets someone on the other side by the neck—and at night—well, it's not a bit funny for some.

Cave-Like Cellar

At the bottom of the house is a crude cellar, which closely resembles a cave. It is pitch dark, even during the daytime, and to send a camper in there is something almost unheard of.

Visitors to the camp and people who pass by that neighborhood frequently stop and look the place over. It's a most unusual sight for this day and age and some evening when you have naught to do, drive down that way and see for yourself. But beware!

Cleveland To Make Early Bid To Get G. O. P. Convention

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31.—When the Republican National Committee names its sub-group to select the 1928 presidential convention city, Cleveland will be among the first cities to enter bids to entertain the gathering.

A sufficient amount of money to finance and entertain the Republican National Convention here in 1928 has already been raised, according to Col. Carmi A. Thompson, who heads the Cleveland group seeking the meeting. It is anticipated that $150,000 will see the convention through and that amount has been raised at this date the Colonel's secretary states.

This amount is based on the expenditures of the 1924 National Republican Convention which met here in the Public Auditorium. The city's municipal gathering place is being enlarged and will be even a greater attraction than it was four years ago.

The sub-committee to select the 1928 meeting place will be appointed sometime in September, according to Col. Thompson. Immediately after the group is named a Cleveland delegation headed by Thompson will seek it out in Washington and urge that Cleveland be selected as the 1928 convention city.

It is also understood here that influential groups are seeking to bring the National Democratic Convention to Cleveland, although no definite announcements have been forthcoming.

DOUBLE GUARD ALONG LAKES

Government To Speed Up Battle On Rum Smugglers On Lakes

MORE VESSELS MAY BE PLACED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Doubling the guard along the international boundary between Buffalo and Lake Huron is the plan announced by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman, in charge of dry law enforcement, who also stated that he will inquire immediately into the conditions in the Pacific northwest.

Plans to increase the border patrol from 200 to 400 men as quickly as possible is being contemplated by the secretary. Summer C. Sleeper, formerly in charge of the Maine patrol, will probably be in charge of the enlarged unit.

In referring to the Pacific northwest situation, Lowman declared that Roy C. Lyle had been summoned to Washington to explain why "so much liquor flows into the northwest." He expects to confer with Lyle today, and it has been indicated that if Lyle does not explain the situation satisfactorily, positive steps will be taken to district reorganization.

At a metting yesterday with the royal Canadian customs commission it was said that unless some arrangement for further co-operation could be made, the additional American coast guard vessels would be placed on the Great Lakes.

ELECTRIC IRON CAUSES INJURY

Mrs. R. T. Ellison, Highland avenue, was painfully injured Tuesday morning at her home, when a hot electric iron slipped from her ironing board, falling on her foot in such a manner that fourtten stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Mrs. Ellison was standing on tip toe, looking for her children out of the kitchen window, when the iron slipped from the stand, and the point went through her right foot, causing her to be burned aside from the deep wound.

A physician was called and it is probable that it will take some time for her complete recovery.

I have just returned home after a four week's course in Physical Education at Silver Bay. While there I learned a good deal about the science of physical training, and the object of giving certain physical exercises. At present, I am looking forward with pleasure to giving what I learned to the gymnasium classes, which will begin October 5.

It seems to me that these round the world fliers are silly, to say the least. It is all right for them to make little hops, but when they start to jump across the ocean, that is carrying things a trifle too far.

Personally, I don't care how high up I go, just so that I always have one foot on the ground, anyway.

Well, the most famous actor, to my mind, is John Barrymore; that is, I mean that he is my far the most famous modern actor. Of course, there are some great character actors like Lon Chaney and some of the comedians, but they seem to be no good unless they monkey their faces up with putty and paint, while Barrymore can show more on his face with less plaster and paint than any man on the stage or screen.

And, in addition to that, he needs only to add a few lines of black to change him from the answer to the maidens prayer to a horrible old man, as one can see when he remembers the performances that were given in "Beau Brummel" and "Dr. Jeckyl and Mr. Hyde."

I saw in the papers a few weeks ago that in Jugoslavia single men are not permitted to hold any political office. This seems to me a good idea.

As the home is the basic unit of all society and government, what does a single man know about it?

Of course, this would be a trifle hard on one of our enterprising young newspapermen, but he could meet this condition if he desired to.

One cannot expect to be a real politician until he marries, as all married men must, by definition, be excellent politicians.

Open Way To Save Perry's Niagara

Erie Councilmen Vote To Co-Operate With Ohio Committee

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 31.—Restoration of the old brig, Niagara, Commodore Oliver T. Perry's flagship in the greatest naval battle fought on the Great Lakes, came a step nearer yesterday when the Erie (Pa.) city council assured Frank Wilford of Elyria, O., it would co-operate with his organization in refitting of the old man o' war.

The Erie councils' action clears the way for Wilford's work.

Tomorrow Wilford's committee of 23 congressmen, mayors, lawyers, bankers, bishops, editors and business men is to meet in Cleveland to outline its campaign.

Between $25,000 and $50,000 marine engineers have estimated is needed to make the hull seaworthy.

Seek Means to Raise Money.

Tomorrow's meeting is expected to present a method of securing the funds.

The old flagship could not be trusted in a Lake Erie breeze today, sailors who have seen her say. She has been tied up at the Erie park commission's public dock for over ten years. Minor maintenance repairs have been made but rotting timbers have not been replaced.

Examination a month ago showed her deck planks had dried and cracked open. Her rails are loose. To make her seaworthy she should be calked all around, her sails mended; her rigging tested and in parts replaced.

The interest of Chairman Wilford is typical of what is believed to be Ohio's concern for the old hull. From an inland town the committee to decide the fate of the old war dog picked its leader.

Convinces Councilmen.

He convinced the committee as last night he convinced the Erie council of the wisdom of repairing Lake Erie's most famous hip.

"Erie's title to the Niagara will in no way be interfered with by the program of this committee" Wilford said.

"Our association plans to co-operate with your park department in every way."

Expecting the Great Lakes region to help rebuild the flagship that placed them definitely and for all time under the American flag over a century ago the committee hopes to sail the old brig around the lakes each summer and stage an annual pageant on September 10 at Put-in-Bay where she won her victory. She will be docked at Erie for nine months of the year.

KEEP UP HUNT FOR REDFERN

No Trace of Georgia to Brazil Flier Has Been Found

PROBE RUMORS HIS PLANE SEEN

(International News Service)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 31.—An intensive search was in progress by South American officials today for traces of Paul Redfern, missing Georgia-to-Brazil non-stop flier.

The report that a plane resembling the "Port of Brunswick", Redfern's machine, was seen over the delta of the Orinoco river on Saturday afternoon continued to be the pivotal point of the investigation. Efforts were being made to search thoroughly the densely wooded section from whence the report originated. It is believed that Redfern may have been forced down in the jungle a short while after the plane was seen.

Pursuant to an order from Washington, the American consul at Para requested Governor Dionisio Bentes to wire officials of all South American states, chiefly those in the northern part of the continent near Guyannes, to search for Redfern and report immediately if any traces of the missing aviator are found.

The governor immediately issued the desired orders.

The Foreign Office was informed American Ambassador Morgann here that the Brazilian government will co-operate to the fullest extent in the search for Redfern.

No news has been received here of Redfern's whereabouts.

Declares Rattle Snakes Do Not Get New Ring Each Succeeding Year

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 31.—After collecting a good seven feet of rattlers' warning horns, State Forest Ranger Howard P. Seese, Renovo, has joined the contingent of woodsmen who contend that rattlesnakes do not get a new ring each year. Seese also scouts tales of the finding of rattlers with more than ten units.

During the past six years the warning of rattlers have been merely an invitation for Seese to add another trophy to his string. Each of the snakes he killed was deprived of its warning rattler and added to the growing string which Seese kept at home. When the string reached seven feet in length, Seese wrote the department on his observations.

According to Seese, a young rattlesnake is born with a single button. Within a few days it sheds its skin and commences feeding. In about two months it sheds its skin a second time, and then the first ring of the old rattle is uncovered. This ring, Seese asserts, has been growing under the skin, and adjoined the original button.

All the rattlers, Seese said, shed their skins one or more times a year. At each shedding the cap on the rattler moves baskward to make an additional ring. Thus the rattle of the snake is simply a series of shed caps or rings which are held together mechanically and loosely because of their shape.

The reason that Seese gives for a rattle seldom consisting of more than ten units is the vibration which shakes off those at the terminal. He also denies the popular belief that rattlesnakes cannot sound a warning after the rattler is wet from swimming or rain.

Stomach Troubles That Are Dangerous

(CUT THIS OUT)

Some forms of stomach trouble, if neglected, often lead to dangerous conditions—ulcers or cancers—then, a surgical operation is about the only hope.

For this reason, even the most simple stomach ailments should be given prompt and careful attention. So, don't neglect acid stomach, sourness, gas or bloating! And don't waste time with unknown or unreliable treatments. At the very first signs of distress, go to any good drug store and obtain a few cents' worth of pure Bisurated Magnesia. This special Magnesia Compound is safe and pleasant to take—quickly, almost instantly, effective and does not act as a laxative. Be sure and ask for BISURATED Magnesia for stomach troubles only.

SNAKEY'S THREE FIRST COUSINS

"Tortoise, turtle! Turtle, tortoise!" Peter was puzzled.

"Why, I thought they were one and the same thing," said he.

Jack-in-the-Box slowly shook his head.

"No, siree! A tortoise and a turtle are not just alike—not by any means. And Terrapin—why, I almost forgot to mention him!"

"Hum! Terrapin! Seems to me I have heard that name before."

Peter was trying to remember where.

"Who is he?"

"Another one of my relatives who is much like me and yet quite different," replied Jack-in-the-Box, and grinned. I could tell you a story if I wanted to, a story of three cousins and what happened to them when they went to seek their fortunes, but I daresay you wouldn't care to hear it."

"And I daresay you are very much mistaken!" declared the boy. "For I certainly should! Who were the three cousins, and where did they live?"

"Tortoise, Turtle and Terrapin!" answered Jack-in-the-Box, promptly, and looking much pleased to think the two-legs really did want him to go on with his tale. "And I don't know where they lived, 'twas so many years ago, but I am quite sure 'twas some place that was quite suited to a reptile—warm, you know, and sunny, I——"

Peter interrupted Jack-in-the-Box. "A reptile!" cried he. "Why should the three cousins choose to live with the reptiles! Ugh! Snakes! I don't like snakes. Creepy, crawly things! They make me shiver!"

"I DON'T KNOW WHERE THEY LIVED BUT I AM SURE 'TWAS IN SOME PLACE SUITED TO A REPTILE."

Jack-in-the-Box gave his queer chuckle.

"Some snakes are very handsome!" said he. "Though none of them are to be trusted! But it would never do for me or my cousins to say much about a snake—it would be like a stone calling a rock hard! Too much alike, you know!"

"Why?" asked the boy.

"Because I am a reptile, and so is cousin!" Jack-in-the-Box wagged his head and wiggled his funny legs and chuckled in glee at Peter's dismay. "Yes, siree! Tortoise, Turtle and Terrapin are snakey's three first cousins.

DELAY DECISION IN HEWITT CASE

Court Of Appeals Takes Under Advisement Case Of Conneaut, O., Youth

(International News Service)

JEFFERSON, O., Aug. 31.—The court of appeals, sitting here this week, announced today that it had taken under advisement an appeal for a new trial filed by attorneys for Floyd Hewitt, 16-year-old Conneaut boy, convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to death in the electric chair.

Hewitt was found guilty of murdering Mrs. Celia Brown and her five-year-old son, Fred Brown, Jr., at the Brown home in North Conneaut, February 14. He admitted the crime, pleading that he became "crazed" by radio jazz music during a visit to the home. He killed Mrs. Brown with a stove poker and then beat the child to death with a club, in order to cover up the first murder, according to the confession.

Defense attorneys filed a 30 page brief with the appellate court, citing reasons why a new trial should be granted. A decision in the case is not expected before next week. Hewitt, in the state penitentiary at Columbus, was granted an indefinite stay of execution pending the outcome of the appeal.

Mine Explosions Will Be Studied

First Aid Mine Rescue Conference Being Held In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31—Mine tests and explosions will be studied today by representatives of 18 states competing in the three-day international first aid and mine rescue contest of the United States Bureau of Mines at the government's experimental workings in Bruceton, near here.

At the opening of the contest yesterday mine rescue crews and apparatus were examined at Carnegie Institute of Technology and the crews were questioned as to their "first aid" knowledge. Hundreds of spectators applauded as splints and bandages were applied to "victims" of imaginery accidents.

The contest will end tomorrow with a banquet which will follow a mine rescue event in which 19 teams will participate. The mine rescue will take place on the campus at Carnegie Tech.

Production Of New Ford Car May Be Delayed

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 31.—Production of the new type Ford car probably will be delayed until November, according to reports received today by sheet steel mills. The steel industry, especially that part which caters to the automobile trade, is finding it difficult to maintain a 50 per cent schedule because of the lack of orders.

Not only are they affected by the absence of huge orders from Ford, but report other manufacturers hesitating until they learn how the new Ford is received by the public.

HIGH GRIDDERS BATTLE FOR POSITIONS

Candidates Given First Scrimmage

Coach Bridenbaugh Sends New Castle High Football Men Through Stiff Workout

Wealth Of Material In Camp This Year Says Ralph H. Gardner

The toughening up process has started at the New Castle High football camp. Yesterday afternoon, second day in camp, the 38 candidates were sent through one of those "do or die" scrimmage sessions.

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh believes in getting down to business. There was some little surprise occasioned in the encampment as the call rang through the quietness of the vast woodland, "grab your helmets and shoulder pads." For about one hour the boys engaged in actual combat, and no serious injuries were reported.

The only casualty in camp is Johnny Burns who suffered an injured knee the first day out. Burns is taking things easy for the next few days, but expects to be back in harness again before the encampment closes. Several of the boys suffered slight bruises, but the injuries were of such nature that they only "shook them off" and the only hint that any of them were bruised, was the assault on the liniment bottle.

Fight On Hand

There is a real fight this year for positions on the Red and Black eleven. Coach Bridenbaugh has about 25 young hopefuls in camp this year, so good, that the task of selecting the best fitted, will be gigantic.

There was really little to choose from yesterday as the two elevens battled each other in width and length of the broad playing field. To the casual observer it looked for all the world like a real scrap. The second team gave the first eleven, everything desired in the way of stiff opposition.

Getting right down to bare facts, there are about two positions on the New Castle High team, cinched to date, and these two lads happen to be Captain Richards and Tony Ostrosky. Unless unforseen developments occur, the season will open with Ostrosky at left end, and Captain "Tippy" Richards at a half-back post.

Speaking about the other nine jobs on the combination, there is a real honest-to-goodness fight on hand. You can bet your sweet life, that the boys who are fortunate enough to win positions this year, will have to show all they are worth. In no other season of football has the material looked any better.

The varsity or first team backfield yesterday was composed of Sillman at quarter, Richards and Turk at the halfback posts, and Tommy Harper at Fullback. The second team backfield contained Paul Reider at Quarter, Walter Smith and Paul Cuba.

Tony Ostosky and Robert Sherer were the guardians of the terminal berths on the first team, and Kulich and Arthur Graft were the opposing ends. Hawley had the call at the center on the first team, with Glenn Thomas also getting in the scrimmage. Alexander at a tackle job, was mighty impressive.

Another hard workout was scheduled this morning, and again this afternoon. The boys are slowly but surely finding out the fact that the camp is "no pink tea affair." Coach Bridenbaugh in a short talk stressed the necessity of getting down to business and that the more work accomplished in the week of encampment, would mean less strenuous practice as the season advances. "There will be no loafers on my team this year," said Bridenbaugh. "We have enough good material to form two fast elevens, if the boys expect to make the team, they must show me that they mean business," continued the mentor.

A Clouting Thomas

By Feg Murray

Ten years ago, when America entered the world war, a young man of wealth and social position attempted to enlist in the aviation service. He passed the hundred-hour test successfully, but, because he was scarcely seventeen years old, he was turned down. The Lafayette Escadrille, however, knew a good aviation prospect when approached, and so Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., of Westbury, Long Island and Aiken, S. C., got into action and soon had two German planes to his credit. The Germans shot him down eventually, but couldn't keep him, for he soon escaped, and after a week of cross-country hiking and swimming rivers arrived in Switzerland.

In 1921, young Hitchcock, who had played polo since he was ten, first made the American Polo team that brought back the historic William Waldorf Astor Cup, which the British four had taken to England before the war. His father played on the first American team in 1886, when the British won the contest. Tommy's terrific hitting and long drives for scores from impossible distances featured those 1921 matches, and also the 1924 Olympic championships, in which he captained the American team. But it was in September, 1924 that he reached his greatest heights in international competition, and his dare-devil riding, combined with his cool, accurate hitting, scored ten goals in the two games against the British.

No wonder they call him "Tommy the Torch" and "That Fearless Hitchcock." There is no defense against this dashing young horseman, who is rated as a ten-goal man, the highest honor that can be given to a polo-player.

Feg Murray Says—

The young lady tennis star decided that she'd rather not pose for her picture just then, as she was badly upset by a long run—in her stocking.

Lucky Persons May Win Fight Tickets

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Mr. Woolworth, please call a cash girl! there seems to be a lot of ten-cent customers in the house. Yes, Mr. Woolworth. I said ten cent, the smallest bit of silver from mint, exactly one cent less than eleven, in fact. I understand you have heard of the sum before.

There may be as many, in fact, as 5,000 of these customers on the premises the night Gene Tunney fights Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight championship and they will be sitting in $40 ringside seats, exactly $39.90 to the good on their investment.

The answer? ask me another. There are, according to conservative estimate as many as 5,000 punch boards in operation around the loop and environs today and for the slight detail of laying one thin dime on the line, you are privileged to take puncher in hand and mutiliate the surface just once. If you are crazy, you toss dime after dime at your host and he learns to love you. If by main force one ticket for the fight, as sounds of anguish issues from his beard.

The system calls for five lucky numbers to each board. The first entitles you to a $40 seat, the second is good for $30 at the box office and so on down the line. With 5,000 boards in operation, the cut price clients on the night of September 22 can not help but be many.

Rickard Sneers

Nor is that all. A local dog track is advertising daily that, out of the goodness of its great big heart, it is giving away eight seats to the fight each night to holders of lucky numbers that appear on tickets purchased at the track. It further promises that at least two of these seats will retail respectively at $40 and $30.

Local observers have come to look askance at these manoeuvers, claiming to see in them some evidence that Mr. T. Rickard is not selling his tickets in the style to which he has been accustomed and that the 160,000 seats will not have 160,000 occupants. When the matter was called to Mr. Rickard's attention this morning, he sneered very politely and said that everything was running according to schedule.

"These punch board operators are just fellows doing the best they can," he said. "If they have tickets to dispose of that way, they got them through the regular channels and they paid the full price or they wouldn't have them. That goes for the dog track fellows, too.

"All I can say for myself is that I am sitting mighty handsome. We have a cool million in cash on hand already and orders for more are so plentiful we haven't had time to check up on them. The last ten days before the fight are the ones where the heavy business catches us and, when it does, I think you will see that my previous estimate of the gate is born out in full.

"We will do business before 160,000 people, or I miss my guess."

Ty Cobb To End Baseball Days With Connie Mack's Athletics

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31.—Ty Cobb now playing the outfield for the Philadelphia Athletics, will never don the uniform of any other major league club, nor will he ever become a player in the minors. When he quits the game for the Philadelphia Athletics, he will quit the game as a player.

The Georgia Peach, baseball's greatest player, and the holder of a few other complimentary titles and world's records, so expressed himself while here with Connie Mack's fly chasers.

Connie is the finest man Ty ever worked for, the Georgian stated, and added: "When I quit Connie I am through playing."

Cobb denied rumors that he would not play next year for the salary he is receiving at present. He expects to be with the Athletics next year, and once he is out of the majors anticipates resting for a year and then purchasing a minor league club and developing players for the majors.

Turning the tables on an inquisitive reporter, Cobb asked:

"Do you think I have gone back far enough to be quitting the game?"

"No," replied the scribe, "but you have been in the game long enough to know that when a player gets to be 40, he is likely to be through almost overnight. You have been lucky as far as injuries go, but you are reaching an age when if you persist in attempting the stunts you did when in your prime you are likely to have an injury that will cripple you."

Cobb's answer was that he would keep on "until they have to cut the uniform from me," and "when Connie tells me he does not need me, I am through."

Ty has no desire to own a major league club, although he says a friend wants him to buy a big time outfit.

Incidentally Connie Mack said there was nothing to reports that he would give up the managership of the A's next season.

"I'm good for several years to come, lads," Connie told newspapermen.

Shields Hurls Four-Hit Contest As Pennsy Boys Topple Wampum in League Tilt

Johnny Shields on the knoll for the P. R. R., allowed the Wampum Crescents but four hits as his mates drove out a 4 to 2 victory in the Lawrence county league game played last night.

So effective was the pitching of Shields that the Wampum boys saw very little of the bases and only tallied two markers. Shields fanned five men and walked two. McIntyre was on the rubber for the Wampumites and was found for seven hits. M Huff and Swinehart led the attack with two hits apiece.

M. Huff and Butcher had home runs to their credit. Hamilton played a fine game in the field for the P. R. R., taking care of seven chances without a miss.

Helen Wills Wins National Title In Women's Tourney

English Girl Falls Victim To Queen Of American Courts In Hard Fought Match

(International News Service)

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Helen Wills of California has captured the national women's lawn tennis championship for the fourth time, but it remained for Miss Betty Nuthall, runner-up to Miss Wills, to capture the gallery and the heart of every spectator.

Miss Nuthall is just under average height but she is extremely well-knit. She gives one the impression of being tremendously husky and yet her figure is just well rounded, without being heavy.

Miss Wills defeated Miss Nuthall in the finals by a score of 6-1, 6-4. The English girl scored 11 earned points to 8 for Miss Wills, but her errors were costly. She made 50 errors to Helen's 27.

Trailing in the second set by four games to one, Miss Nuthall broke through the American's service and then took a "love" game. Miss Wills was faltering, but the English girl lost her chance through errors.

New Castle To Use Regular Line-up

Cut Admission To 50 Cents For Pennsy-New Castle Game

Admission to the Pennsylvania-New Castle O. & P. game this evening at Centennial Field will be 50 cents, according to the management of both teams who agreed that the price of 75 cents would be lowered.

Lawrence County League prices have been 35 cents according to Manager Dan Potter of the Pennsylvania and after a conference with Carm Sacco of the New Castle club it was decided to make the admission charge 50 cents.

Manager William Steen today stated that he would use his regular lineup against the Pennsylvania with the probability that Moll Meis will pitch against the southpaw, Steve Hutnic.

The annual tennis tournament for the girls' national hard court championships will open at Berkeley, Cal., September 3.

Rocco Battles Tonight

Mike Solomon To Get Chance In Near Future At Erie

Perotta Starts Friday

By ED. FRITZ

TONIGHT is "sock night" at Idora Park, Youngstown, and one of the chief exponents of the "Knock-down-drag'em-out" affair will be Emmett Rocco, youthful Ellwood City light-heavyweight who hopes to emerge victorious over Romero Rojas who some time ago was one of Tex Rickard's pugilistic "loves."

Rocco has been stepping on high for some time and recently bowled over the veteran Detroit mauler, Joe Burke. Since that victory fans have asked that the Ellwoodian receive a "shot" at some notable and in accordance with their desires Promoter Al Zill selected Rojas as Rocco's antagonist.

Rocco is a short, squat, hard-socking battler. He has taken punishment and is not afraid of it. Rojas has taken plenty of it during his eastern career and when two "sockers" get together it is bound to be a hard-hitting affair. It appears as though the boys who like their beef served rare will have a real menu tonight.

PEROTTA TO FIGHT NASHERT AT ERIE

TOMMY MAXWELL, promoter of the Arena A. C., Erie, pens a letter to the writer saying: "I want to let you know that George Perotta will fight Charlie Nashert of Jersey City, and Romeo Pacelli, also of New Castle, will battle Billy Sager of Jamestown, Friday night."

Maxwell goes on to say that "Nashert is something like Frankie Schoell. He is too good for his own good and they all duck him. Perotta is working like a trooper and it should be a great fight. Nashert arrived here Wednesday night."

SOLOMON TO GET CHANCE AT ERIE

MIKE SOLOMON, junior lightweight in the stable of Eddie Weygant, will get a bout at Erie in the very near future, according to Maxwell. When Solomon flattened Whitey Stevenson, of Erie, the shock of the defeat rocked the waves at the State street dock.

Another member of Weygant's stable turned in a victory at Conneaut Lake, Jack Drake winning from Young Deer. Drake and Solomon, plus Roy Minteer are ready for action, according to Weygant and he expects to keep them busy this winter.

DELEGATION TO SEE LOCAL FIGHTERS "GO"

ARRANGEMENTS were under way today for a delegation of local fans to motor to Youngstown tonight and Erie, Friday night, to see Rocco, Perotta and Pacelli in action. While Rocco is from Ellwood City, New Castle fans will 'pull' for him with the same enthusiasm as they would for a local lad and they should.

For the past year or more apparently the city was doomed for a pugilistic retirement but with three stables in operation here indications are that a number of young boys will be rushed into pugilistic harness for action this winter.

SACCO ARRANGING FOR LOCAL BOUTS

CARM SACCO, business manager of the New Castle ball club, which proposes to stage bouts at Centennial Field is trying to line up some matches and is finding that the career of a matchmaker is somewhat trying. Right now Rocco is the choice with Pedro Lopez as a probable opponent.

The outcome of the bout tonight will tell the story as to whether Rocco and Lopez will strut their stuff. Should Rocco lose by a knockout it is probable he would be given the "air" but if he wins he can write his own price. Sacco says he is trying to line up an opponent for Mike Solomon, lightweight from the West Side.

GIANTS PLAY AT SING SING

Several Other National League Teams Wish New Yorkers Would Remain

CUBS TWO GAMES AHEAD OF PIRATES

By LES CONKLIN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Giants play a game at Sing Sing prison today and several other National league clubs would like to see them detained there indefinitely. The sensational New Yorkers have copped 22 of their last 28 starts and with a record of seven straight victories are burning up the league.

As a result of New York's third consecutive victory over the Cubs, Pittsburgh's even break with the Phillies and the Cardinals defeat by Brooklyn the dope this morning runs as follows:

The league leading Cubs are two games in front of the Pirates, who lead the Cardinals by a half game. The Giants trail the Cards by two points.

The Cubs looked bad against the Giants. They appeared to have lost their spirit and the players ran the bases with no more judgment than a string of boxcars. Three pinch hitters were fanned by Grimes yesterday. The Giants plastered Jones and Bush and won easily 7 to 3.

Pittsburgh sustained a setback when Hub Priett of the Phils won a 3 to 2 duel from Ray Kremer in ten innings. The Bics ran away with the nightcap 11 to 6 due to the hitting of Joe Harris. Joe made four hits and drive in six runs.

Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn stopped the Cardinal cold 5 to 3 helping to win his own game with two singles. The strike-ou king fanned eight batters.

Hugh McGillan held the Reds to four hits, three of which were made by his old al, George Kelly, and Boston won 2 to 1.

The American league clubs were idle. Today Ty Cobb begins his 23rd year in the American league.

Though erthed at the bottom of the columnthe Boston Braves nevertheless are cutting quite a figure in the National league race. Three straight vtories over the Cubs show Bancroft's hand still strong in their old role as wreckers of pennant hopes.

Breaks Favor Pirates As Cubs and Cardinals Lose

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—After losing the first game of a twin bill, three to two, the Pirates came back in the last half and won from Philadelphia 12 to 6 and found that the breaks favored them as Cubs and Cardinals defeated New York and Brooklyn. The Pirates are 13 points behind Chicago in the race for first place in the National league.

Kremer and Pruett pitched good ball during the first game and the tilt was carried into the tenth inning with the score one to one. In the first of the tenth Harris singled and was scored by Spencer's double.

The Phils went to bat for the last time and Scott doubled and Attreau ran for him, taking third on Spalding's single to right sending Spalding to third and he scored when Leach bounced a single against the right field fence. This gave the Phils the game.

In the second game Meadows, Dawson and Miljus pitched against Scott, Decatur and Sweetland. Pittsburgh gathered a total of 15 hits while the Phils collected ten. When the ninth innig had ben played out the Phils had lost 16 to 6. The box scores:

Ryantown defeated the Independent A. A. at the outset of the Lawrence county season when the Twilight loop team volunteered to play an exhibition game.

Since that date there has been considerable talk concerning the stregth of teams in the two leagues and the All-Stars are not in the Lawnce loop they have a good team.

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

Ten thousand sport writers heaved a sigh of relief when Molla lost her tennis title. They don't have to spell Bjurstedt so often now.

The trouble with the Dempsey-Tunney fight is that it isn't getting enough publicity.

Cleveland wrestling match lasted only five minutes, but the fans missed the finish because they had been asleep for four.

Stanley Harris, Washington manager, didn't get a hit in 29 times at bat. Another thing to blame on the lively ball, we suppose.

Speeding taxi tears off New York man's pants. The pedestrian was lucky the driver didn't charge him for valet service.

The harvest moon may still be a long way off, but the Yanks have already gathered in the crops.

Gene Tunney refuses to be photographed doing menial tasks. But this does not include mopping up the ring with Dempsey.

SORDS POINTS

Fate Smiled On Tunney In Post-War Scramble

By JACK SORDS

Gene Tunney, who risks his title for the first time Sept. 22, emerged from the post-war period in boxing circles nine years ago as the lone favorite of Dame Fate.

A score of other boxers who sought fame in the ring following the great bout of nations overseas fell by the wayside. Topping the list of blasted hopes, were Bob Martin and Sergt. Ray Smith.

Seeking to check these lads and Tunney were Ole Anderson, Al Roberts, Wolf Larsen, Martin Burke, Jim Monohan, Jack Clifford and others.

Tunney's one-round victory over Bob Martin in the light-heavyweight tourney in Paris before the boys came home gave him his start. Back in the U. S., Tunney met and defeated most of the others. Sergt. Ray Smith had beaten Martin. Tunney polished the sergeant off in two rounds. Ole Anderson went down in the third. Wolf Larsen hung on for seven rounds. Martin Burke stayed the full ten rounds with Tunney—and later took all the marine had in 15. Clifford was disposed of in six rounds. The veteran Charlie Weinert fell in four. Later Weinert went 12 rounds with Gene.

Battling Levinsky risked his light-heavyweight title with Gene and lost it in 12 rounds. Harry Greb later took the crown away from Tunney—only to be trounced roundly in a later battle.

The crafty Tommy Loughran was another victim of Tunney's aspirations. Tunney shaded him in an eight-round bout.

All of these boys came and faded from the limelight. Greb perhaps was the only great fighter among them. Death took him recently. Greb was basking in the limelight, however, when the world war interrupted things.

Of the whole group of post-war hopefuls Tunney alone found real fame and held it.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
(Exclusive Central News Dispatch to New Castle News)

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The fate of the White Sox this season would indicate, among other things, that you have to meet hitting with hitting these days to get any place in the baseball world. Ray Schalk, lacking the husky clouters of rival teams, has resorted to the old type of game—sacrificing his men around. The team is struggling along now to climb into first division before the season ends.

The Sox lead the league by a big margin in sacrifice hits. They rank around fifth, however, in home runs, seventh in triples and their only claim to extra base honors lies in the two-base hit column. They stood second in doubles in recent statistics.

The Detroit Tigers, whose rampage was checked by the Yanks recently, have ranked down in the list of circuit clouts, but are well up in the number of triples and two-base blows. They have been leading the procession, however, in stolen bases, which would indicate that there is no harm at least in moving a man up a base with something besides a roundhouse swing at the place.

Moriarty's men have carried more potent bats all season than the Sox. Schalk's men may argue it out with Boston and the Indians for the hitless honors before the season ends. Moriarty has his team climbing in the batting averages.

A scrutiny of the team batting averages also gives another tipoff to the reason why McCarthy's Cubs are up there and at 'em. His boys are running second to the Giants in home run hitting and rank well up in sacrificing and base stealing honors.

To get back to the American League, Miller Huggins, despite the fact that he has the two greatest home run hitters in captivity on his ball club, hasn't forgotten the old lay-'em-down game, ranking right behind the White Sox, along with the Mackmen. His men have been fairly active in beating throws to the next base, too.

Of course, batting isn't everything. Pitching always has played an important part in a team's success or failure, but it is a significant fact that the four leading clubs in batting in the American League happen to be the teams comprising the first division.

The same might be true in the National League but for the fact that the Phighting Phillies have had the unmitigated nerve to horn in on the batting averages and grab off a place near the top, among the Pirate, Giant, Card and Cub crews.

The most forlorn club in either circuit is the Brooklyn outfit. Uncle Robbie's team just simply hasn't landed any place in any angle of the game.

* * *

The question of the hour in this fair burg right now is whether or not the jolly Cubs can stand up under the gruelling racket for the rest of the race. Up to a couple of weeks ago the Pirates appeared to be the most likely to wobble and break under the strain. The recent slump of the Cubs shocked the local bugs. They still assert, however, that McCarthy can put the kick in them at the right time.

The Giants, aside from their recent "bull in the china closet" tactics, give the bug cause for worry because of the fact that the New York club has fewer games to play than the Cubs, Pirates or Cards. This being the case, a spurt by McGraw's team can raise havoc at any time.

Christians Win Church Pennant

The Central Christians won another forfeit game from the Third U. P. at the Lehigh Field, on Tuesday night, and by annexing this unplayed victory, captured the pennant in the second half of the New Castle Church loop.

The Central Christians will now meet the First Christians at Croton Field on Friday night, in the first game of the series for the championship. The game will start at 6 o'clock daylight savings time.

The Centrals won twelve games and lost but two in the second half of the season.

The Union Association, organized in 1884 "to deliver the baseball players out of bondage," lasted only one season. It had teams in St. Louis, Philadelphia, Altoona, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Boston, Chicago and Washington.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Helen Wills, 21-year-old California girl, again is the tennis king of America, having turned back Betty Nuthall, 16-year-old English star, yesterday at Forest Hills. She won the national singles 6-1, 6-4.

Negotiations are under way in New York to bring Joe Dundee and Ace Hudkins together in a 15-round bout. Promoter Fugazy is trying to arrange the fistic event for Ebbetts field September 12. The fight would be for the welterweight championship which Dundee holds.

Having defeated the Cubs the New York Giants have flared forth as a real pennant threat and are now only 2½ games from first place. The Pirates are trailing the Cubs by 13 points and the runners-up will play at Pittsburgh Thursday.

Gene Tunney has commenced intensive training for defense of his world's heavyweight championship at Chicago. Yesterday he took on seven sparring partners. Jack Dempsey enjoyed an idle day, excepting for a seven-mile hike.

About 100 places have been reserved for persons who will attend the banquet of the Lawrence county baseball league at the Elks club about the middle of September. The different managers will send their players to the banquet and the pennant winners will be the guests.

Mail Carriers Defeat Lehigh

The Mail Carriers downed the Lehigh Cement baseball team by a score of 6 to 1 in a game played last night at the Croton field.

The game was a pitchers' battle between Wilson and Kroen with both heavers allowing but four hits. The Mail Carriers bunched their hits in the second, third and fourth innings to snatch the victory.

Buckeyes Down Bankers 11-7

The Buckeye Garment baseball team downed the New Castle Bankers team, by a score of 11 to 7, in a game played last night, at the Buckeye Field.

The Bankers got away to a bad start in the first three innings, and allowed the Buckeyes to pile up a lead of eleven runs, but fell short of enough to snatch a victory.

Travers' catch of a hard liner from the bat of Dean was one of the many features of the game.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Sheridan in the Shenandoah.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

LATE IN JULY, 1864, GRANT SENT GEN. "PHIL" SHERIDAN WITH 45,000 MEN TO DRIVE THE CONFEDERATE ARMY OF JUBAL EARLY FROM THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY. SHERIDAN LEARNED THAT EARLY WAS BEING REINFORCED FROM LEE'S ARMY, AND FELL BACK TO THE POTOMAC. BUT LEE, NEEDING MEN AT PETERSBURG, WITHDREW THE TROOPS HE HAD SENT EARLY, AND SHERIDAN AT ONCE TOOK THE OFFENSIVE.

SHERIDAN, NOW OUTNUMBERING HIS OPPONENT, ADVANCED DETERMINEDLY. ON SEPT. 19TH, 1864, HE DEFEATED EARLY AT WINCHESTER, AND AGAIN ON SEPT. 22ND AT FISHER'S HILL, BOTH SIDES LOSING HEAVILY. EARLY RETREATED SOUTHWARD UP THE VALLEY.

SHERIDAN THEN PROCEEDED TO LAY WASTE THE RICH VALLEY, SO THAT IT COULD NEVER AGAIN BE USED BY THE ENEMY AS A LINE OF ATTACK AGAINST WASHINGTON. THE FEDERALS STRIPPED THE REGION SO THOROUGHLY THAT SHERIDAN SAID, IF A CROW WANTED TO FLY ACROSS THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY, HE WOULD HAVE TO CARRY HIS PROVISIONS WITH HIM.

THE SOUTH CALLED FOR REVENGE, AND EARLY, WITH SUPPORTS FROM LEE'S ARMY, AGAIN TOOK THE FIELD. ON OCT. 19TH, AT DAYBREAK, WHILE SHERIDAN WAS ABSENT, THE CONFEDERATES SURPRISED THE FEDERALS AT CEDAR CREEK. SOME OF THE UNION TROOPS FLED IN DISORDER. THE 6TH CORPS RESISTED BRAVELY, BUT WAS FORCED TO FALL BACK BEFORE EARLY'S FURIOUS CHARGES.

TOMORROW—SHERIDAN'S RIDE.

Davis Says Levee Work Essential

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. — Secretary of War Davis today appealed to Comptroller General McCarl to reconsider his refusal to make available $2,000,000 for immediate levee reconstruction work along the Mississippi river. Davis said the work was essential.

The war department wanted to use the money out of the river and harbors appropriation but McCarl held that such a transfer was illegal.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Under the leadership of United States Steel common and General Electric for the industrials, and Western Maryland for the speculative rails, the stock market displayed a strong tone in the early trading today. A few of the market favorites, including Houston Oil and Texas Landtrust, were under pressure, moving downward one to four points.

Freight traffic for the week of August 20 showed an increase of 17,356 cars over the previous week. This was a measure of encouragement for the bulls, who were also encouraged by the aggressive leadership displayed by United States Steel. The stock selling ex-dividend $1.75 a share, advanced to 146 3-4, equivalent to 148 1-2. General Electric rose brilliantly to 141, another new record and a two-point advance, to the accompaniment of rumors of a new split-up in the stock.

The commodity markets were quiet in the early trading, with cotton down about 10 points, wheat down a cent a bushel in Chicago and New York, corn, rye and oats fractionally lower. Coffee and sugar were firm and all of the foreign exchanges steady. Call money was unchanged at 3 1-2 per cent.

DOCTOR HILL URGES HIS SON TO SURRENDER

(International News Service)

STREATOR, Ill., Aug. 31.—"Surrender and fight the charge against you," was the appeal sent out today by Dr. H. C. Hill to his son Harry, 22, sought as the slayer of his mother, Mrs. Eliza Hill, 53, whose body was found in a grave in the basement of her home.

Asserting his belief in the boy's innocence, Dr. Hill, who divorced Mrs. Hill two years ago, pledged his full support if Harry surrenders.

The wealthy physician has retained two lawyers to defend his son and has consulted a prominent Chicago criminal lawyer, it was said today.

Reports were received today that a youth said to resemble Hill had been seen in a Bentwater, Mich., summer cottage. Police were making an investigation of this clue.

Mayor Likely To Ban Suit Clubs

Salesman Is Taken Into Custody By Police On Tuesday

Mayor William H. Dunlap is determined that the new type of lottery, namely that of selling a suit of clothing on the basis of a winner every week, either of a suit or cash ranging from $50 to $500 is not going to operate here.

Yesterday Detective C. C. Horner and Officer Thomas Lynch took into custody the collector of a suit club proposition originating in Pittsburgh and the matter is now in the course of adjustment. The probable result is that these type of suit clubs will be banned.

Indications are that at least 54 persons paid the initial two dollars to the salesman of the scheme a few days ago and the collector was here to secure the second week's installment of $2. The strange part of the entire transaction according to the police is the fact that while the buyers of the ticket in the club were supposed to be purchasing a suit for $48, yet they were not shown a sample of the cloth from which it was to be made, neither were they guaranteed that the suit would be worth the price paid. All they were guaranteed was a suit.

The system on which it is operated is a weekly drawing based on the weekly bank clearing statement of the Pittsburgh clearing house.

Hall is being held in the county jail in default of bail for a hearing to be held Friday.

Await Word To Release McCray From Atlanta

Official Word And Papers From Washington Holds Up McCray Release

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Aug. 31.—Word from Washington was awaited at the federal penitentiary here today for the parole of Warren T. McCray, former governor of Indiana, who has served three years and four months of a ten-year sentence imposed for using the mails to defraud.

Attorney General Sargent announced that he had granted McCray a parole, as recommended two months ago by the Atlanta parole board. The parole presumably was to be effective as soon as papers could be forwarded to Atlanta, and the federal authorities here expected orders momentarily.

McCray was a multi-millionaire, as well as the dominant figure in Indiana politics. The financial crash that preceded his arrest resulted in losses to depositors in 75 banks and to hundreds of small investors. Estimates of his personal losses varied from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Since his conviction and imprisonment, he has expressed the desire to live long enough to re-pay every one who lost money through his operations. He hopes to re-enter the cattle and grain business. He has not one cent capital, however.

McCray won his parole through strict adherence to prison regulations. He was editor of the prison paper, "Good Words".

Lowden Steers Clear Of Farm Relief Issue

Farm Relief Bill Will Be One Of Strong Factors In Presidential Fight

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 31.—While the farm relief question will undoubtedly be one of the most important issues in the next presidential campaign, probably not even Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, staunch advocate of the McNary-Haugen Bill, would go so far as to revive that measure in its original form, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, said when he passed through here late Tuesday enroute to Washington from Seattle.

In the senator's opinion, Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce and Mr. Lowden are two of the outstanding major possibilities as a successor to President Coolidge who have genuinely strong support in the northwest and far west at this early date.

But no matter who captures the nomination, the farm relief question will be one of the important issues, and the campaign itself will in all probability, be one of the bitterest ever fought, Senator Borah said.

Rockefeller Aids Patrolman In Making Arrest Of Motorist

Officer Commandeers Rockefeller Machine To Chase Traffic Offender

(International News Service)

MATAWAN, N. J., Aug. 31.—John D. Rockefeller had a thrill today for his memory book.

It was worth at least 50 cents to the aged millionaire, also to Patrolman Leroy Sproul, who owns five new Rockefeller dimes today.

A motorist disregarded Sproul's warning whistle when he passed a traffic signal. The next car was stopped by Sproul who ordered the chauffeur to pursue the offending automobile.

Sproul turned to the passenger and recognized Rockefeller.

"Keep after him," said the oil king.

Sproul did. The speeder was caught. The law was satisfied. So was Rockefeller. The oil man's estate lost five dimes.

Everybody was tickled except the speeding motorist.

It is probable that it will be an event of about next Saturday at the Leslie Hotel. At any rate, the policemen say that the fish are on hand and that the event is sure to be pulled off.

Fletcher, superintendent of the Union Valley Coal Company mines, at Hamlin, three non-union miners today were sentenced to serve from one to two years in the Allegheny county workhouse. KELLY GETS PATENT ON OIL BURNER

Thomas H. Kelly of this city, a well known bricklayer, has just been awarded a patent on an improved type of oil burner for use in furnaces, which is said to simplify the methods of using oil in heating furnaces. It also makes possible the use of refuse oil from automobiles for fuel burning purposes.

The principal claim for the invention is the fact that it overcomes the necessity of an air or steam blast, requiring only a natural draft for its operation. Another feature is its simple construction, it being in the nature of a grate bar and requiring very few alterations to a heater in order to make its installation possible.

Mr. Kelly has received some very interesting and favorable comments on his invention, which is expected to prove useful and in considerable demand, when its qualifications become more generally known.

Miss Botham Is Playing Hymns On Musical Saw To French Guinea Folks

Way across the Atlantic Ocean in the wilds of French Guinea, Miss Sallie Botham, formerly of this city, and a missionary of the Christian and Missionary Alliance among the natives of the dark continent, is playing the gospel hymns on a saw that was selected from the stock of Kirk, Hutton & Company of this city.

Miss Botham became interested in the possibilities of a saw as a musical instrument in hearing W. C. H. Matthews of the Dean block, well-known rural mail carrier of this city, play on one.

Mr. Matthews has been playing selections on a saw for the past two years. He uses an ordinary eight-point saw, which he has had plated to keep in better shape. He uses an ordinary violin bow in playing the saw, using it on the back or smooth edge of the carpenter's principal tool. The variation of tone desired is secured by bending the saw.

He first acquired his desire to play on the saw on hearing another person perform on one at a Seventh Day Adventist camp meeting and has been at it ever since.

While his repertoire is principally religious selections, he also plays a number of other selections with pleasing effect. His reputation as a player of the "saw" is widespread, owing to the fact that in recent months he was called upon by Aimee McPherson, the noted Los Angeles evangelist, to play from the platform of the Coliseum in Chicago while she was conducting meetings there. His playing was broadcasted. The saw has the tone qualities of a violin and is heard best with stringed instruments. Mr. Matthews frequently plays in combination with a violin, banjo-guitar and banjo and the effect is very pleasing.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Wonder what has happened to the dances this year? What has become of the hippety-hoppety gyrations we had for several years, the contortions and all that sort of thing.

Roamed out to the park last night to pass an hour or so and watched the crowd dance. 'Most of them youngsters and most of them graceful. Somehow or other the kid of eighteen, has a careless gracefulness that no teacher can supply, a lissomness that takes a pair of them over a floor as lightly as a sunbeam.

Noticed one new dance last night, perhaps it was the flea hop. This dance, whatever it is, is doomed to an early death if you care for any opinion on it. First of all everybody hasn't got ball bearing knees and secondly unless it is done perfectly, it is most awkward looking. Sort of a dip with both knees at once, a sort of half hesitation step, a side slip, a nose dive, and circle all.

Saw an umbrella mender Tuesday afternoon, one of the old time chaps who goes around with a stand on his back and a dinner bell in his hand. It was raining and the old boy was trudging along, impervious to the rain, hoping to run into somebody who needed their umbrella fixed. One sees the umbrella menders seldom any more. Perhaps folks don't carry them, or perhaps they never get broken any more. And a lot of folks have cars and slickers.

This parking problem on the downtown streets is past the cute stage, its acute now. At eight thirty parking space in the downtown area is as scarce as stockings on a bathing beach.

Was up around Doc McBride's place on Lutton street Tuesday, and Doc apparently is at neutral in this campaign as was Switzerland in the World War. He has one side of his building covered with the cards of candidates and says he is willing to take on all and sundry. He bars none of them, Republicans or Democrats.

The new Shenango Township Consolidated School is one that the folks of that township can be proud. Had to go out there also Tuesday afternoon and there must be some Scotchmen on the board of directors. How they ever got the building they did for the price they did is something to talk about.

The new building has created a condition on the road between Cascade Park and East New Castle that might be dangerous. The youngsters from this district walk to and from school and because there are no sidewalks, have to use the public highway.

Some smart motorist going out the road at dismissal time Tuesday afternoon seemed highly annoyed to think that boys and girls should be on the road. First of all he was running at too high a rate of speed and nobady was interested in his ability to cut in and out of a stream of human traffic.

My friend Glasser of the state forces tells me that Officer Murphy of the State Highway Patrol is covering that section of the road. Just a quiet tip to motorists. This man Murphy lives up to his name. He fears nothing on wheels or feet and would arrest his best friend for violations. A couple of crazy motorists brought into a squire's office and plastered with a stiff fine might curb speeding on this section of the road. Here's wishing Murphy a hatful of luck in his work.

Have an invitation to attend the Carnegie Playgrounds banquet on Thursday evening at six o'clock. One nice thing about Carnegie banquets. They always have plenty to eat. J. Clarence Miller and George Bechtol believe in plenty of groceries and anytime they invite you to a banquet its not necessary to eat a lunch before you go.

Remember this, 332nd infantry. All out tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Legion Home. New Castle wants that reunion for 1928. Benny McCann, Ralph Weide, Babe Spurrier, et al are asked to remember this.

Await Approval Of Perry Highway Plans By State

Word of approval from the State Highway Department at Harrisburg as to the relocation of the Perry Highway is all that is holding up construction at the present plans.

The portion of the Perry highway which will be improved lies in Butler county between the Allegheny line and the new construction just south of Zelienople. It is about seven miles long.

First work on the highway was started early in July, when a corps of surveyors surveyed the road.

At present men are working on the plans of the proposed highway in the local Highway Department office.

INDIANA, Pa., Aug. 31.—A hearing will be held on September 3, upon the temporary injunction issued yesterday by Judge J. N.
